... YOU Can Do It Too!

I TRIED FOR YEARS TO GAIN WEIGHT

It wasn't easy until now!

That's what so many men are saying after using ShapeUp, the marvelous, new compound, especially formulated by nutritionists, sports dietitians and biochemists for the sole purpose of helping men to more healthful, sturdier and better developed bodies.

MACHO MEN HAVE MORE FUN

Women are not excited by men who are skeletons. They like men of form and substance. They like men who look good in their clothes and out. They like men who look like men. If you are one of those who knows this and have been trying in vain to do something about it, this is your lucky day. Your search is ended. Your body is about to embark on a trip to its ideal shape and form. ShapeUp is here to shape you up . . . and we mean it sincerely. You are about to gain weight . . . and not just flab, but the right amount in the right places. You'll see!

SKINNY ISN'T ATTRACTIVE

If you don't think so, just watch what turns women's heads on the beach. They get turned on by well-built guys. They're the ones with the prettiest girls. It's a rare fellow who doesn't want to look good in his clothes and is happy with a skinny frame, who has not envied men who weighed a little more, had a better appetite and generally displayed a physical fitness that spoke of health and well-being. True, while doctors and nutrition specialists warn against being fat, very little is said about the equal or greater evils of being underweight. So there's more to it than cosmetic aspects. Skinny is not only unattractive. It is also unhealthy. Gaining weight could mean gaining health for you.

GAIN STAMINA AND SELF-CONFIDENCE TOO.

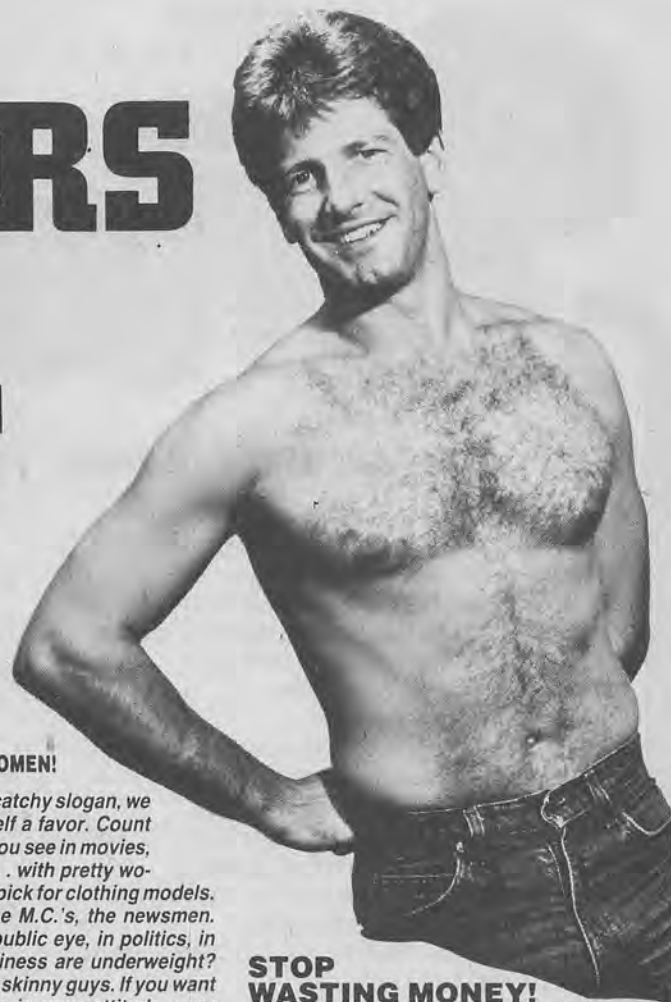

Skinny men are not great lovers. That's a known fact. Add a few pounds and you'll be amazed how it will improve your love-life. Women know this and are conscious of the fact that skinny men can't go the distance. The race is to the strong, the saying goes. And the fellow who is handsomest doesn't look like a stand-in for the family skeleton. Many a man found that gaining a few more pounds has helped him overcome chronic illness, major or minor. Many a doctor has prescribed gaining weight. But so little is publicized about skinny men. The great amount of publicity given to coronary problems has brought the bulk of weight attention to those men who weigh too much. Men who weigh too little never really get equal time. But their problem is no less serious.

GAIN WEIGHT! GAIN WOMEN!

If you think that's just a catchy slogan, we hope you will do yourself a favor. Count how many skinny men you see in movies, or on TV or anywhere . . . with pretty women. Notice whom they pick for clothing models. See the announcers, the M.C.'s, the newsmen. How many men in the public eye, in politics, in leadership roles in business are underweight? Not even astronauts are skinny guys. If you want to experience a change in your attitude, your business progress, your lifestyle, see what 5, 10, 15 pounds can do for you. See how it adds to your personal esteem, your confidence and, best of all, your well-being. Your day will come . . . and thank your lucky stars, it's within sight with ShapeUp working for you.

LOOK BETTER AND FEEL BETTER WHILE YOU GAIN

In these times when women are free to express themselves and pick and choose their men, you don't need a handicap . . . especially when it's so easy to put yourself in the forefront of competition. Why not look your best? And you will if you feel your best. And you'll feel your best when you gain the kind of nutrition that builds your body to its highest potential. Everyone knows that a healthy body brings a healthy mind and the kind of outlook that makes you want to kick up your heels . . . and go out and lick the world. Yes, with ShapeUp, you give yourself a super-lift of confidence, built into its wondrous formula, that's compounded to perk you up and give you a winning attitude.

STOP WASTING MONEY!

Here's a low-cost way!

Some fellows, who've been trying hard to gain weight, resort to all sorts of methods to do so: professional exercise sessions, costly nutritional regimens, large investments in health foods, time-consuming weight-building programs. Yet, here, at an extremely affordable price, you are offered a product so elementary, so easy-to-take, yet so effective we offer it to you without any greater effort than filling out and mailing a coupon. You don't even have to go to a store for it. And unlike any other method, product, means or procedure, we GUARANTEE ShapeUp to the point of total freedom from risk of any kind.

NO GAIN! NO PAY! WE ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEE IT!

Your money back without any strings whatsoever. Try ShapeUp for 30 days. It does as we say or you get a full refund.

BE TOUGH!

I MEAN REALLY TOUGH!

My method of DYNAMIC-TENSION gives you results you can feel and your friends will notice. Big, useful muscles. Gain pounds in weight where needed.

Lose "pot belly." Take a good honest look at yourself! Are you proud of your body — or are you satisfied to go through life being just "half the man" you could be? No matter how ashamed you are of your present physical condition — or how old or young you are — the "sleeping" muscles already present in your body can turn you into a REAL man! Believe me, I know — because I was once a skinny, scrawny 97-pound half-alive weakling! People used to laugh at my build and make fun of me. I was ashamed to strip for sports or the beach... shy of girls... afraid of healthy competition.

HOW I CHANGED FROM A 97 LB. WEAKLING TO A REAL MAN.

One day, I discovered a secret that changed me from a timid, frightened scarecrow into "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man" — a "magic formula" that can help turn you, too, into a marvellous physical specimen... a REAL man from head to toe... a man who STANDS OUT in any crowd! What's my secret? "DYNAMIC-TENSION" — the natural method! No theory. No gadgets or contraptions. You just do as I did. Simply take the "sleeping" muscles already present inside your own body — build them up — use them every day in walking, bending over, reaching, even sitting! Almost before you know it, you're covered with a brand-new suit of beautiful, rock-hard SOLID MUSCLE!

SEND FOR FULL INFORMATION AND 7 DAY TRIAL OFFER.

So sure am I of how fast "Dynamic-Tension" works that I make this offer to you. Try my course for 7 days and in even that short period of time you will have results that not only you can feel, but your friends will notice, or it costs you nothing.

BLESSING IN DISGUISE

In response to your article on whether The Road Warriors were getting too big for the AWA (February 1986), the answer is a definite "yes."

When the AWA promotion decides to reverse two decisions in favor of their favorite puppet, Rick Martel, and then go as far as to all-out lie and proclaim that all decisions by the referee are final—after the Warriors were robbed by Steve Regal and Jim Garvin with help from Michael Hayes and Buddy Roberts . . . well, it would seem asinine for Paul Ellering to keep his Legion of Doom employed by such an absurd organization as the AWA.

After Hawk and Animal are through getting revenge on four choice punks in the AWA, they will head to the NWA and send three Russians back to Moscow. And after they have accomplished this, they will set their sights on the NWA World tag team title.

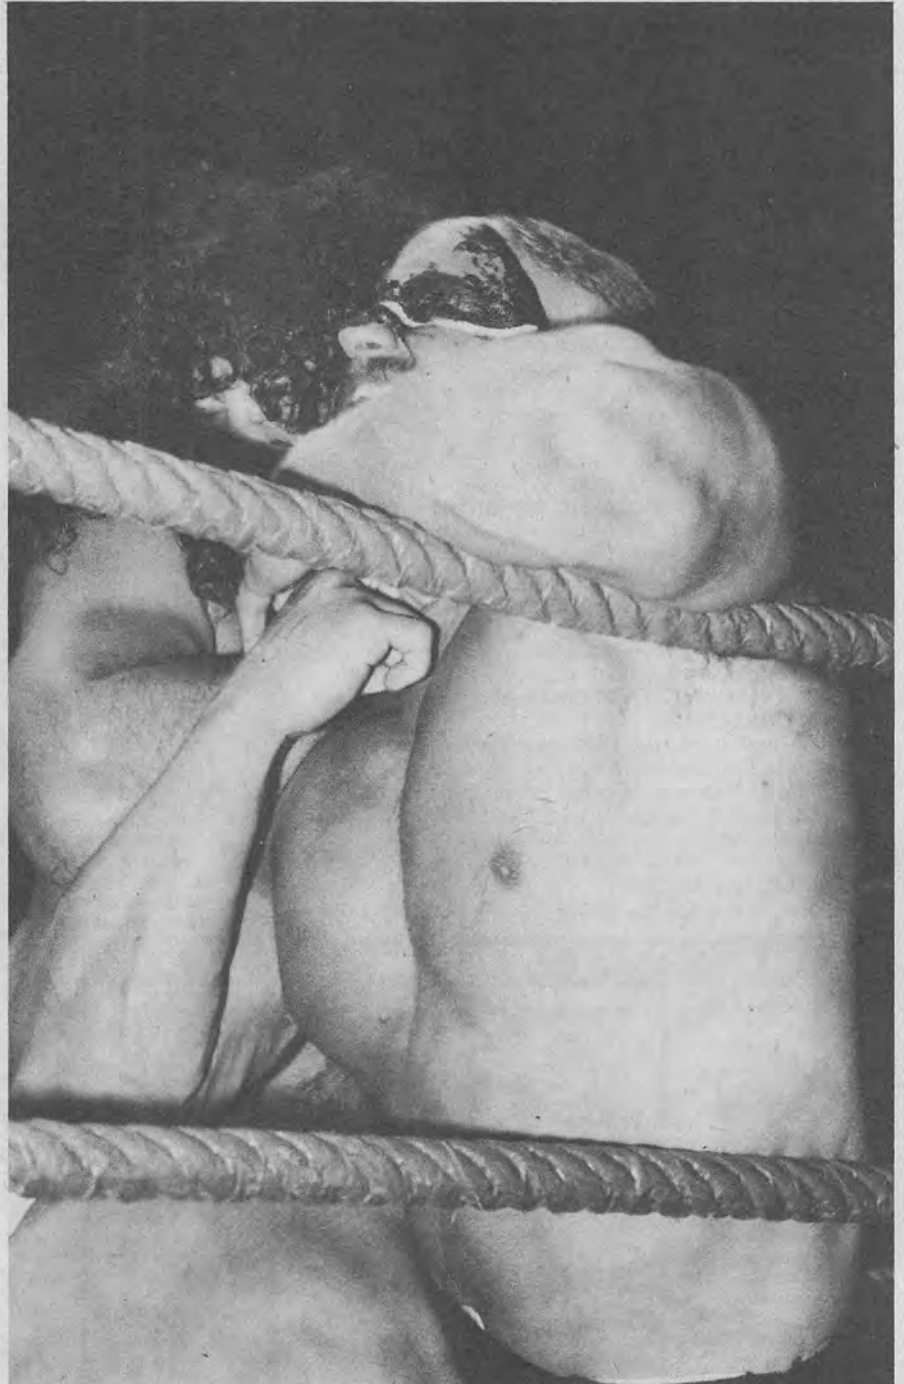

So in short, Stanley Blackburn and all his stooges have just given the Warriors a good excuse to get out of an organization that is more annoying than the WWF. And that's a hard act to follow.

BILL E. HARDER

FIRE-BREATHING DRAGON

I bought the January 1986 issue of Inside Wrestling to read "Rick Steamboat vs. Magnificent Muraco: The Volcano Rumbles! Will This Feud Erupt Into Uncontrollable Violence?"

The feud between Steamboat and Muraco may be just as exciting as the

Jim Garvin chokes Road Warrior Hawk along the ropes. Reader Bill E. Harder notes that losing the AWA tag team belts to Garvin and Steve Regal might benefit the Warriors in that it gives them the freedom to wrestle wherever and against whomever they want.

EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Peter
King

Editor-in-Chief

The cover of this month's Pro Wrestling Illustrated features a picture of Wendi Richter with the headline "Is Wendi Richter More Popular Than Hulk Hogan?" She may well be, at least as far as the fans are concerned. But as far as WWF kingpin Vince McMahon is concerned, Wendi is very unpopular. You see, a few days after we wrote the story, only weeks after Wendi had lost her woman's title to Fabulous Moolah, McMahon fired her.

WWF sources told us that Richter was let go because "she was tough to work with." But somehow this doesn't ring true. After all, Richter was one of the WWF's top attractions. In many cities, she was an even bigger draw than Hogan. Certainly a man with Vince McMahon's superb promotional sense would not fire someone because of personality differences.

Then why did Vince McMahon fire Wendi Richter? I've got my own theory. For the WWF to be successful, no one can be bigger than Hulk Hogan. Hogan is the locomotive pulling the entire WWF gravy train. Everything must begin and end with Hulk Hogan. In 1985, the amount of merchandise money brought in by Hulk Hogan was staggering. And since the WWF seems to spend money as fast as it makes it, it cannot survive without this income. The fans see the WWF as Hogan and Savage and Richter and Santana and the rest, but the WWF sees itself as Hogan and no one else. Hulk Hogan is the unquestioned king of the WWF. And there is no room for a queen.

I believe McMahon fired Richter because she was becoming too popular. The PWI story is a prime example; it marked the first time a woman had ever appeared on the cover of the world's largest-selling wrestling magazine. The cover may have been the last straw for McMahon. Was it a coincidence that Richter was canned just days after we went to press? I think not. The PWI story proves that Wendi Richter was at the height of her popularity. Ironically, this may be what got her fired.

'TOP SECRET'

Behind the Dressing Room Door

by Stu
Saks

DAVID SAMMARTINO NEVER asked for more from his sport than what he felt he deserved. Before he turned professional in 1980, there were promoters who promised him stardom if he would agree to bring his surname to their area. David wasn't interested. He knew that there was no such thing in professional athletics as gifts of stardom. He learned by living with a man by the name of Bruno Sammartino that stardom is something that is paid for with broken noses, cracked ribs, and cauliflower ears.

He didn't want a title match in his first professional match. He didn't want any special favors at all. He would not take advantage of his father's years of suffering. David made his professional debut in Puerto Rico where he did a lot of suffering on his own. He has been around a bit in the succeeding years and has continued to suffer. But, until now, he has never complained. "I knew more than anybody what I was getting myself into when I decided to be a pro wrestler," he told me following a match at the Tropicana Hotel in Atlantic City. "As far as I was concerned, the tougher things were, the better. I was very conscious of the critics who said I would have an easy time of it because I was Bruno Sammartino's son."

Sammartino was readying himself for a shower following a match in which he teamed with Sgt. Slaughter that was taped for future airplay on ESPN when I spoke to him about his move from out of the WWF, a move that was surprising to everyone but the powerfully built young wrestler. Presently, he is in the AWA, but he says he is not sure if he

(Offer good in U.S. and Canada. All other countries $32.00. U.S. FUNDS ONLY)

THIS MAGAZINE GOES on sale the second week of February. That's six weeks into the new year, which should allow plenty of time for all of us to break most of the resolutions we made on New Year's Eve.

I don't know who first came up with the idea of making New Year's resolutions, but my guess is that she was a Jewish mother. Now don't start writing nasty letters to me, because I'm not making any ethnic judgment here—being a Jewish mother has nothing whatsoever to do with being Jewish. It has to do with guilt.

And that's what New Year's resolutions seem to do: They saddle people with subtle guilt. Because 98 percent of the people who make them never keep them. The other two percent don't make resolutions, but lie and say they did; they get to feel that subtle guilt, too, from having bent the truth a bit for the sake of the season.

So about four or five weeks into the new year, people's resolutions start falling by the wayside. The aggregate level of guilt in the general population begins to rise as the aggregate number of promises made to the self and kept begins to plummet. Pretty soon, just about everyone has a tiny little stash of guilt tucked away in the unconscious.

A Jewish mother would be proud.

Me? I'm guilty enough from having a column called "On The Road" and not having truly written about my experiences on the road since the January 1985 edition of Inside Wrestling. But then again, I can't remember the last time that Stu Saks went behind a dressing room door, so I suppose in some small way I'm vindicated.

With that said, and with the realization that as I type these words the descent of the lighted apple in Times Square—and the onslaught of 1986—is only days away, I'd like to state for the record these New Year's resolutions:

I WILL attempt to write about my travels in "On The Road" at least once in 1986.

I WILL NOT make fun of Bill Apter's bald spot while watching "Pro Wrestling Illustrated Scouting Report" on weekends on WTBS, nor will I suggest that the segments should be aired on TV's Bloopers And Practical Jokes.

I WILL NOT purchase any Hulk Hogan headbands, T-shirts, beer mugs, bedsheets, workout kits, drinking glasses, bubblegum cards, sweat suits, beach towels, foam fingers, wristwatches, dolls, videocassettes, stickers, records, bookmarks, school supplies, wrestling rings, posters, painters' caps, biographies, balloons, pajamas, or puzzles.

NEITHER WILL I purchase any Sgt. Slaughter albums, Greg Gagne dolls, Freebird satin jackets, wrestling board games, wrestling strategy games, Jesse Ventura picture discs, Baron Von Raschke dolls, or wrestling videocassettes.

CRAIG PETERS

I WILL, however, accept freebies on any of the above items if anyone would care to send them to me (VHS on videos, please).

I WILL try to watch more tapes of more matches from the areas of the country I don't usually see in my weekly wrestling viewing.

I WILL hope for Kendall Windham to gain weight and Adrian Adonis to lose it, for Billy Jack Haynes to stop traveling and the Von Erichs to start, and for the WWF area to get less recognition and the Mid-South area to get more.

Adonis—too much; Windham—not quite enough.

I WILL attempt to figure out why six-man tag teams only have three members.

I WILL CEASE making fun of the WWF—but only when the WWF ceases to make fun of the fans to whom it is so condescending.

I WILL CEASE making fun of the World Class area—but only when the World Class area ceases to have Kevin Von Erich vs. Chris Adams as a main event on most of its cards.

I WILL CEASE making fun of the NWA—but only when the NWA adopts a set of rules for the sport that prevents such farces as the Starrcade '85 non-decision.

I WILL CEASE making fun of the AWA—but only when the AWA signs half a dozen new wrestlers with average ages under 45.

These are my New Year's resolutions for 1986. If I can keep just one of them this year, maybe I won't feel so guilty. But I doubt it. □

You exchange forearms and dropkicks with your foe. Suddenly, you're locked in a python-like bear hug. But, instead of submitting, you break the hold and counter with an explosion of elbow smashes, followed by a bone-crushing body-slam! Excitement like this truly radiates from each and every match!

WE'VE GOT THE SOLUTION

We get lots of mail, tons of it! And almost everybody says the same thing: "You left out ActionCards for my favorite wrestlers... Please make ActionCards for these wrestlers..." We get the point! There are hundreds and hundreds of professional wrestlers, both past and present (not to mention the future). We thought about the dilemma and our staff finally came up with the solution...

ANYTHING GOES

We're unleashing the "Promoter's Dream Edition." We designed 60 new ActionCards utilizing our unique and copyrighted "game-system." But here's the kicker...now you can fill in the names of your favorite wrestlers on the ActionCards!!! As promoter, you can now create your ultimate tag-teams!!! You can even turn yourself and your friends into professional wrestlers!!!

ACTIONCARDS

Players have the opportunity to imagine themselves as the big-time promoter, the mischievous manager and especially a world famous wrestler!

Each of the 60 ActionCards are rated for ability in singles matches as well as tag-team matches. The data is computer-generated and based on the ring performances of professional wrestlers. You decide on your favorite wrestler's skill level (or your own, for that matter) and label your cards accordingly.

Some of the cards will be awesome — real main event caliber — and others will be atrocious — bums forever destined to preliminary status! But the choice is yours since only you decide on the wrestler!!

EQUIPMENT

★ 60 ActionCards ★ Official Rulebook & Update Newsletter ★ Scoresheets ★ Tag Team & Pin Chart ★ Texas Death, Steel Cage, Boot Camp & Dog Collar Match Charts ★ 2 Sets of Playing Dice ★ Colored Clips to mark your champs ★ Special Results Chart to record who-beat-who and how often.

NAMES MAKING

New Year's Eve was still two days away, but that didn't stop the residents of Borger, Texas, from whooping it up in the streets after their most famous and ferocious son, Stan "The Lariat" Hansen, ran roughshod over Rick Martel to capture the AWA World heavyweight championship.

Martel, who had taken a tremendous beating from Hansen four days earlier in St. Paul, came into the ring with a back injury that doctors now say should have forced the bout's cancellation. Martel chose to wrestle with the handicap rather than disappoint the fans at the Brendan Byrne Meadowlands Arena. Hansen, quite naturally, showed no compassion. He directed his attack at Martel's injury, finally turning him over for a Boston crab (or what he calls the "Brazos Valley back-breaker"). Martel, who had only submitted two times during his entire career—both in his rookie year—had to relinquish the bout or risk permanent injury. He had held the AWA title since May 13, 1984, when he defeated Jumbo Tsuruta.

Receiving treatment in the dressing room, Martel tried to deny that his back injury had anything to do with the loss. "I was beaten by a better man tonight," he said. Everybody present showed respect for his graciousness, but few people believed him.

Hansen adds the AWA World championship to his Pacific heavyweight title and the Pacific tag team title he holds with Ted DiBiase. "Guess I'll have to give somethin' up," he piped between gulps of champagne in the winner's dressing room. "Wonder which one it'll be?" he asked reporters with a sly wink.

History was almost made again on that Meadowlands card when Dusty Rhodes apparently pinned Ric Flair to capture the NWA belt. However, referee Dick Woherle, who was knocked out earlier, returned to disqualify Dusty for throwing Flair over the top rope.

Where's the beef? Down in Texas with manager Gary Hart. Hart's current stable includes One Man Gang (467 pounds), Kareem Muhammad (460 pounds), Big Bubba (320 pounds), and Bruiser Brody (the runt of the litter, weighing a slender 302).

Capt. Lou Albano will shuck his shoes to advise Hillbilly Jim, Uncle Elmer, and the recently arrived Cousin Luke. Albano said that his first goal will be to refine the Hillbillies' raw strength into effective wrestling holds. . . . Junkyard Dog and Terry Funk shared the battle royal spoils when they soared over the top rope at the same time at the Nassau Coliseum.

The Nightmare's car trouble became a bad dream for Eddie Gilbert

DiBIASE & WILLIAMS

N' NEWS

Bill Apter
reporting...

on the night of their scheduled Mid-South tag team title defense against Steve Williams and Ted DiBiase. With Gilbert's partner, Nightmare, stranded on the side of the highway, Dick Murdoch came in as a replacement and was promptly pinned by Ted DiBiase for the title ... Jerry Lawler defeated Tony Falk in a match where the loser got diapered. Can't wait to see those pictures.

On a recently televised installment of Mid-Atlantic wrestling, Tully Blanchard asked his valet Baby Doll where she had been for the last couple of days. Baby Doll said, "You know where I was. I was in Acapulco. You gave me the ticket yourself." Blanchard denied ever doing so. Baby Doll persisted. "Yes you did. J.J. Dillon gave me the ticket and said it was from you." Dillon is called in and denied the entire episode. Angered beyond belief, Blanchard slapped Baby Doll once, twice, three times, and continued to do so until Dusty Rhodes stormed in to the rescue! Later in the program, Ric Flair was refusing to release his figure-four on Jim Jeffers, who had already submitted. Dusty, Tully, and Baby Doll congregated around the ring. Dusty and Tully entered the ring, then Tully and Flair began to beat up Dusty. Flair clamped a figure-four on "The American Dream," and Tully hurled punches at his arms. Baby Doll then jumped Tully, and was assisted by Magnum T.A.! Dusty and Baby Doll left the ring area together, and now Baby Doll says she will no longer tolerate Tully's treatment. Perhaps Baby Doll's 30 days with Dusty this past Summer were not as intolerable for her as we all believed them to be.

MAGNUM T.A.

In a recent World Class area development, The Missing Link scored a defeat over Jack Victory. No sooner was his hand raised than Rick Rude and Percy Pringle raced into the ring to play taps on his head. The reason: A few days earlier, Link was teamed with the Pringle-managed Kabuki in a bout against Scott Casey and Iceman Parsons. In the middle of the match, Kabuki decided that Sunshine is more interesting than either of his opponents and zeroes in on her. The Link pounces on Kabuki, saving Sunshine, and earning the wrath of Pringle and Rude. Now, in the middle of his beating, Sunshine—who else—rallies to the Link's side, packing an aerosol can of an indeterminate substance. Whatever it was, it succeeded in emptying the ring of Pringle and Rude. Sunshine and Link will work together in the future.

Those silly little WWF dolls of Hulk Hogan, Jimmy Snuka, Iron Sheik, John Studd, etc. number over three million in sales, according to a published report. That's a $20 million gross for those without calculators. AWA dolls of The Road Warriors,

RANDY SAVAGE

Rick Martel, The Fabulous Ones, and Baron Von Raschke are also selling briskly, although their sales reports aren't in yet.

Randy Savage warmed up for a series of title matches against Hulk Hogan by defeating young Dan Spivey. Ringsiders report that Savage had a lot of difficulty with the youngster. Could Savage have been looking ahead, or is Spivey as tough as everyone is saying? That old standby, time, will have to tell.

That's all for now, wrestling fans. See you at the matches! □

THE INSIDER

By Eddie Ellner

Savage's pose is copted by Ellner (see opposite photo), providing Elizabeth with a basis for comparison.

Although his cause is hopeless, Ellner wants it to be known that Elizabeth is facing him on this page, and not Savage.

[The opinions expressed in "The Insider" are those of Eddie Ellner alone, and do not necessarily represent the opinions of anyone else on this magazine.]

Dear Miss Elizabeth,

No longer can I ignore this mumpish heart. The nightly gnash of teeth, the plaintive wail of your divine name has prompted the neighbors to contact the 26th precinct. But what do they know of love?

I love you, Elizabeth, oh boy, do I love you! Mine is a love of pure radiant neutron energy. It is a burning, fervent, and urgent love. But, please, my sugar eagle, don't confuse my tenderness with teenaged, puppyish lust. A woman of your breeding must get enough of that, God knows. This libido ain't fueled by zits. Yes, for you I would eat the sands of the Sahara and wash it down with the Indian Ocean; for the warmth of your caress I would cut off my nose and swallow my ear, but, and of this I must convince you, mine is also a love powered by sophistication and maturity. It is the love the trappist monk has for his monastery; a mechanic has for his three-quarter-inch wrench; an intellect for a treasured tome. In short, Liz, a first team All-America Opening Night on Broadway love; love so adult and frank, so vehement that it demands to be recognized.

This thing you have with Randy Savage isn't fooling anybody. Professionally speaking, I admire his wrestling ability, but (and this pains me, Liz) I must ask you: What else is there? Can you see yourself chained to someone who brandishes an ego the size of Dusty Rhodes' trunks? Forget that he is losing his hair. Forget that a recent straw poll voted him overwhelmingly as the ugliest man in professional wrestling. I implore you, Elizabeth, to forget him. He's bad news, a natural disaster, a casualty report.

It's as clear as your complexion that Savage is not for you. Where he is doltish and brutal and cadaverous, you are Florence Nightingale and Raquel Welch. Your legs are twin sticks of dynamite, your face a youthful monument to the powers of Art. The threat of your smile moves mountains. He is foul and putrescent. His breath empties a room.

The atrocious indignities that Savage commits on your person in public can only foreshadow the foul play he must perpetrate on you in private. This rustles my goat. To violate you is to repudiate life itself. Although sensitivity outweighs instinctual brawn, I did play ice hockey in college. I'm all man, my possum. Make sure Macho Mouse is aware of that. He might be able to take down Hogan, but if he tangles with me I hope he's on the WWF's early retirement plan. A woman like you is worth spilling every last ounce of blood for.

Most of us love from our need to love not because we find someone deserving. Forget this primate, Elizabeth. Let's talk about us. I can't promise you racoon furs and month-long European holidays, but you don't want those things. I know you don't. You are sad and forlorn in your gold and diamonds; your grief shines like a Crimson A; it's impossible for a leaden heart to glitter. I, too, have known the yoke of a failed relationship. I, too, have tasted the convict's hell. Elizabeth, I understand.

We would make utter sense together and I trust my faithful readers would agree with me. I tender myself to their intuition. Dear, dear readers, my fate is in your hands. Shouldn't Miss Elizabeth turn away the domineering, beastly Randy Savage and in his place accept the proposal of me, Eddie Ellner, your faithful columnist? Don'tcha think we'd make a terrific couple? I wait, asphyxiated with love's paralyzing fumes, for your responses. Address them to Ready For Love, c/o Ellner, Box 48, Rockville Centre, NY 11571.

AN IMPARTIAL COMPARISON OF SAVAGE AND ELLNER

MONTREAL, QUEBEC

By Lawrence Yane

JUNKYARD DOG

vs.

TERRY FUNK

Funk smudged JYD's character and parental origins during the prematch introductions. He would soon regret his words. The bitter enemies exchanged unsuccessful sleeperholds before JYD headbutted Funk into never-never land. To emphasize the victory, Dog delayed his pin and set Funk up for his "big thump," after which he rolled the veteran up for the pin.

ALBUQUERQUE, NM

By John Klemiento

JERRY BLACKWELL

vs.

MICHAEL HAYES

AWA wrestling reappeared here after a two-year absence and the fans were treated to top-level grappling. Hayes used his speed and quickness to confuse Blackwell, but ventured too close in the end and fell prey to a "big splash" off the ropes. The Freebird struggled to squirm free but couldn't budge the giant off of him.

OTHER BOUTS: Blackwell also won a $50,000, 11-man battle royal ... Larry Hennig & Scott Hall defeated Michael Hayes & Buddy Roberts ... Leon White defeated Boris Zukhov ... Buck Zumhofe drew with Kelly Kiniski ... The Mongolian Stomper defeated Kevin Kelly.

EAST RUTHERFORD, NJ

By Josephine Melanson

vs.

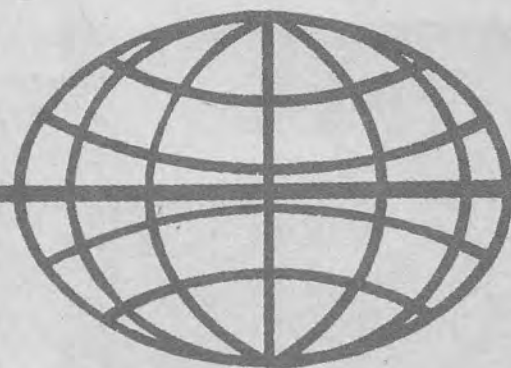

DUSTY RHODES

Revenge was Rhodes' primary motivation in this contest. Rhodes bounced Flair from corner to corner, mashing the champ's face into a bloody mess. The pivotal moment came after the referee was knocked out of the ring. As the battle continued, Rhodes flipped Flair over the top rope and went on to pin the dazed champion. The final ruling, though, disqualified Rhodes for throwing his opponent over the top rope.

OTHER BOUTS: Buddy Roberts defeated Paul Ellering by disqualification ... The Rock 'n' Roll Express defeated The Long Riders ... Magnum T.A. defeated Tully Blanchard ... The Road Warriors beat Ivan Koloff & Krusher Khrushchev ... Carlos Colon defeated Konga the Barbarian ... Stan Hansen beat Rick Martel for the AWA World title (see "Names Makin' News").

WRESTLING CAPITALS

PITTSBURGH, PA

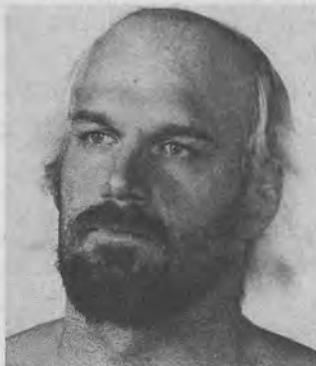

By Dean Grande

HULK HOGAN

vs.

JESSE VENTURA

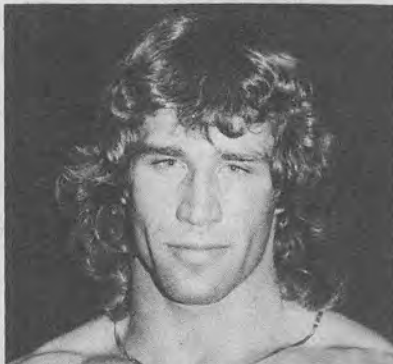

Ventura's attempt to become the world's first world heavyweight champion/color commentator went astray, as Hulk-a-mania ran wild in Pittsburgh. The two behemoths made light of the rules as they stomped their way in and out of the ring. Ventura seemed inspired, but couldn't maintain any momentum. After a series of legdrops, the referee counted one, two, and three and raised Hogan's arm in victory.

FT. WORTH, TX

By Susie Shinstein

KERRY VON ERICH

vs.

MISSING LINK

Von Erich began the match with a dropkick that sent the Link scurrying from the ring. When he returned, he was met by a Von Erich claw that was useless against the Link's impenetrable noggin. Link butted Von Erich and followed his advantage with a stunning sock on the jaw that knocked Von Erich from the ring. Link followed Kerry out of the ring and knocked him out with a chair. Kerry was counted out and the Link scored a stunning upset.

OTHER BOUTS: John Tatum defeated Tommy Montana ... Rick Rude defeated Iceman Parsons ... Kevin Von Erich beat Chris Adams.

ORLANDO, FL

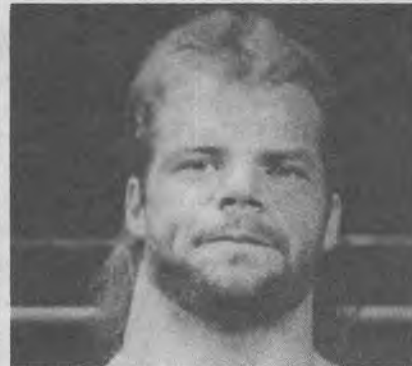

By Timothy Chazbo

WAHOO McDANIEL

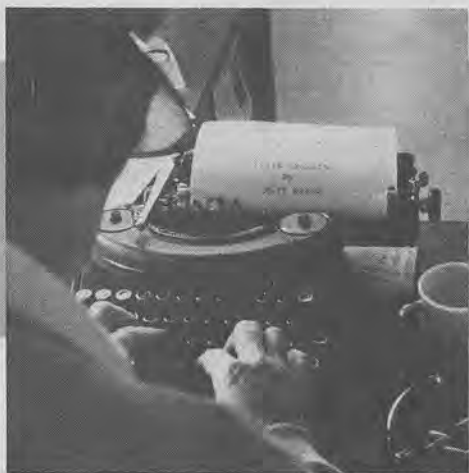

vs.

LEX LUGAR

Wahoo needed all his experience to retain his Southern title against Luger in this lumberjack match. With Hiro Matsuda encouraging Luger from ringside, the rookie overwhelmed McDaniel with a deft series of power moves. Wahoo was able to toss Luger out of the ring and catch his breath. Three lightning quick tomahawk chops made Luger easy pin prey. Shortly after, however, Wahoo would lose his Southern title to the determined rookie.

OTHER BOUTS: Prince Laukea defeated Ron Ritchie ... Lady Maxine defeated Angel Vachon ... Kendall & Barry Windham defeated Purple Haze & Kevin Sullivan ... Blackjack Mulligan defeated Maya Singh.

Matt Brock's PLAIN SPEAKING

WENDI RICHTER VS. SPIDER LADY

NEW YORK, NY: I'm sitting in the back room of a watering hole that best remains nameless, a watered-down Scotch to my right. The ice had melted long ago, but my concern was directed more toward the inside straight that I was trying to decide whether or not to attempt to fill. I decided not, tossed my cards to the dealer, and sauntered out to the front room to get some ice and something else for those cubes to water down. The bartender knew that when I was in this particular establishment, I absolutely wanted to discuss anything, anything, but wrestling. That's why I don't give the name of the place; it's intended to be my haven, my world away from the world. But not even the man with the soggy dishrag and the philosopher's eyes would allow me to get away clean this day. "That's something about Wendi, huh?" I grunted in recognition of his comment and went back to tackle the next hand. But he was right, it was something about Wendi. Soon after she lost the World Women's title back to Fabulous Moolah, and even before the April 1986 copy of Pro Wrestling Illustrated with the cover story ("Women's Wrestling Comes Of Age: Is Wendi Richter More Popular Than Hulk Hogan?") hit the stands, the rumor mill began working overtime: Wendi is despondent over having lost the title, Wendi is depressed beyond words, Hogan did not like the implications of the PWI cover story and began to apply pressure to WWF higher-ups, Wendi has decided to leave the sport, Wendi has been fired by the WWF. I'm not certain which of the the above are true, or even if any of them are true. Right now, there's just too much chaos. All I can say at this juncture is that maybe the WWF was afraid of Wendi getting more popular than Hulk Hogan. It's arguable that she was, and a damn good argument in favor of that position appeared in PWI. Go check it out and see for yourself. I already read that issue; I'm gonna spend my time trying to get in touch with Wendi. Latest word I heard is that she's sequestered herself somewhere in Puerto Rico for a month.

PORTLAND, OR: "Billy Jack Haynes is back." Maybe I should take that phrase and keep it on the side somewhere to use in every column, only changing the dateline each issue. I can't believe it. I honestly can't believe it. Billy was on the verge of become the wrestling star of 1986. He wisely made the move to compete in the World Championship region, an area that had the greatest potential to best display his unique abilities. And those abilities were being highlighted. In fact, on one of Haynes' last televised matches, he did three extended-arm over-the-head full presses in a row, one each on Ole Anderson, Arn Anderson, and Tully Blanchard. Haynes was hot, and getting hotter. His popularity might have rivaled that of Magnum T.A., or Dusty Rhodes. He would have had shots at Ric Flair. He would have been nationally featured each week on World Championship Wrestling. But the kid's got no patience. He goes back to the Pacific Northwest. Of course he'll regain the PNW heavyweight title. He'll wipe 'em out up there. But for what? Toward what end? Billy Jack Haynes could have had it all.

Harder than nails, veteran wrestling reporter Matt Brock has logged more miles covering wrestling than any other journalist. Every month Matt will travel to the sport's hotbeds, reporting everything he sees without fear or favor Instead, he's the instant candidate for the recipient of the Worst Career Move of the Decade award. The PNW's gain is the rest of the country's loss.

MEMPHIS, TN: Last issue, our "Hotseat" interview featured a discussion with Jerry Lawler. It revolved around the fact that Lawler had promised his fans that he would retire if he didn't win a world title in 1985. Well, Jerry didn't win a world title, and he didn't retire, and for that I'm glad. After all, Jerry overstepped his bounds by making that promise. And in the wake of his failure, I think all of his fans should sit back a minute and think: Would you damn a man for failure, or do you think you should praise him for having the courage of his convictions to place everything on the line in a promise that he knew he'd have a hell of a time keeping? I side with the latter, obviously, and so should you. Jerry is a deeply committed man who lives, eats, breathes, and sleeps wrestling. He could no sooner quit wrestling than I could quit dr—er, uh, writing. So have some sympathy for Jerry. Reneging on a promise is difficult enough. Lawler needs your support now more than ever before.

SHREVEPORT, LA: There are fewer sights more disheartening and depressing than to see a normally healthy man clinging to life with the aid of tubes, pumps, gears, widgets, and all manner and manifestations of electric and electronic gadgetry and circuitry. I had an uncle who died after a lingering illness and too many months in the hospital, and I'll always have sympathy in my heart for anyone whose life so much as skirts this particular issue. I was horrified to see Ted DiBiase strapped to a hospital bed with enough machinery attached to him to fill out an episode of Spielberg's Amazing Stories. DiBiase had suffered a neck injury resulting from an attack at the hands of Dick Murdoch. Ironically, it was the very same injury that killed Ted's father, "Iron" Mike DiBiase. Thank God that Ted will be all right, though. And you know something? Staring into the face of death like that might have given Ted something to think about. In fact, I'm sure it did. And he certainly had plenty of time to do some thinking. Doctors are talking about a return to the ring for Ted, and my money's on the wager that we'll see a profoundly different Ted DiBiase when that return finally happens. □

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

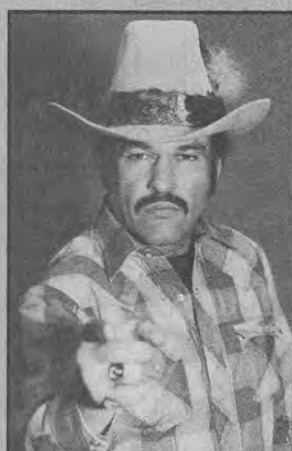

Do you have a favorite wrestler who has left your area? Are you wondering where he is today? Then this special column is just for you. Each month we will update the whereabouts of four current or former wrestlers

DORY FUNK JR.

The former NWA World champion has been on an extended tour of the Orient, where he teamed with Shohei "Giant" Baba in "The World's Strongest Tag Team" tournament. Although Dory and Baba didn't win, they did make it to the final round where they were beaten by Stan Hansen and Ted DiBiase. Dory regularly wrestles in Puerto Rico. When he's not in the sun of Puerto Rico, he can usually be found relaxing at his lakeside home in North Carolina.

TOMMY GILBERT

Tommy is currently serving as a referee in the Mid-South area. His son, Eddie, is the co-holder of the Mid-South tag team belts along with The Nightmare.

Thus far, Tommy has steered clear of refereeing any of Eddie's bouts, but he has assured Mid-South officials that if he is put in that position, they can be certain he will definitely be impartial. Eddie and Nightmare's opponents, though, may not feel so comfortable with Tommy as third man in the ring!

ANGELO POFFO

The father of both Lanny Poffo and Randy Savage is currently living in Lexington, Kentucky, and keeps in close touch with both his sons. Angelo was a major star in the '50s and '60s, and exercises his influence over '80s wrestling by advising the careers of both his boys. Angelo, who managed many wrestlers during his ring tenure, tells us that his sons' success is clearly a reflection of his great advisory prowess. Lanny and Randy wouldn't dare say differently.

BUDDY ROGERS

To the disappointment of many starry-eyed youngsters, "The Buddy Rogers School Of Wrestling" is no longer in existence. Instead of devoting his time to many young men, Buddy has opted to work exclusively on developing and overseeing a training program for his son David, who hopes to make his pro debut sometime in 1986. Meanwhile, Rogers still works out regularly and is a periodic guest broadcaster on the Pro Wrestling U.S.A. program.

THE AWA'S FUTURE IS IN SCOTT HALL'S HANDS!

EARLY IN 1973, a man by the name of Ric Flair made his unheralded debut in the squared circle. To be precise, it was February 1973, and for the record the opponent was George "Scrap Iron" Gadatski. Flair won the match, but few fans cheered or booed. They were waiting for the card's main event that was still many matches away.

Little more than a decade later, Flair established himself as the premier force in the NWA, professional wrestling's oldest and largest sanctioning body. Currently enjoying his third NWA World title reign, Flair amassed a lengthy series of championship achievements between that chilly February 1973 debut and the glory days Boris Zukhov has a long way to fall after being backdropped by Scott Hall. Much of the future success of the AWA rests on this 6'8", 290-pounder's broad shoulders.

Seldom in the course of athletic history are fans privileged to witness the coming of an individual who has the potential to change the very face of his chosen sport. In the world of professional wrestling, Scott Hall is just such a man of the 1980s. Today, the fans cheer and boo—but they all recognize that Flair is the quintessential professional wrestler.

Little more than a year ago, Scott Hall made his professional debut in Kansas City, wrestling in a tag team match with Dan Spivey. Together, they defeated Bulldog Bob Brown and Marty Jannetty. Few fans cheered or booed. Like Flair in 1973, it was an unheralded debut.

And as Flair did over the decade that followed his debut, Scott Hall has the potential to galvanize the sport of professional wrestling through his formidable size (6'8" and 290 pounds) and his ever-developing skills (learned at the hands of such ringmasters as Flair, Barry Windham, Dusty Rhodes, Magnum T.A., Terry Taylor, Harley Race, Pat O'Connor, Curt Hennig, and Rick Martel).

Indeed, Scott Hall could do for a suffering AWA what Flair did for the NWA, or what Hulk Hogan has done for the WWF over the past two years.

Few people who Inside Wrestling spoke with would go on the record with their comments about the state of affairs in the AWA today. Most agreed that wrestling in the AWA, while maintaining high scientific standards, and boasting such top stars as The Road Warriors, Stan Hansen, Rick Martel, Sgt. Slaughter, and The Fabulous Freebirds, is nevertheless suffering from an overall lethargy.

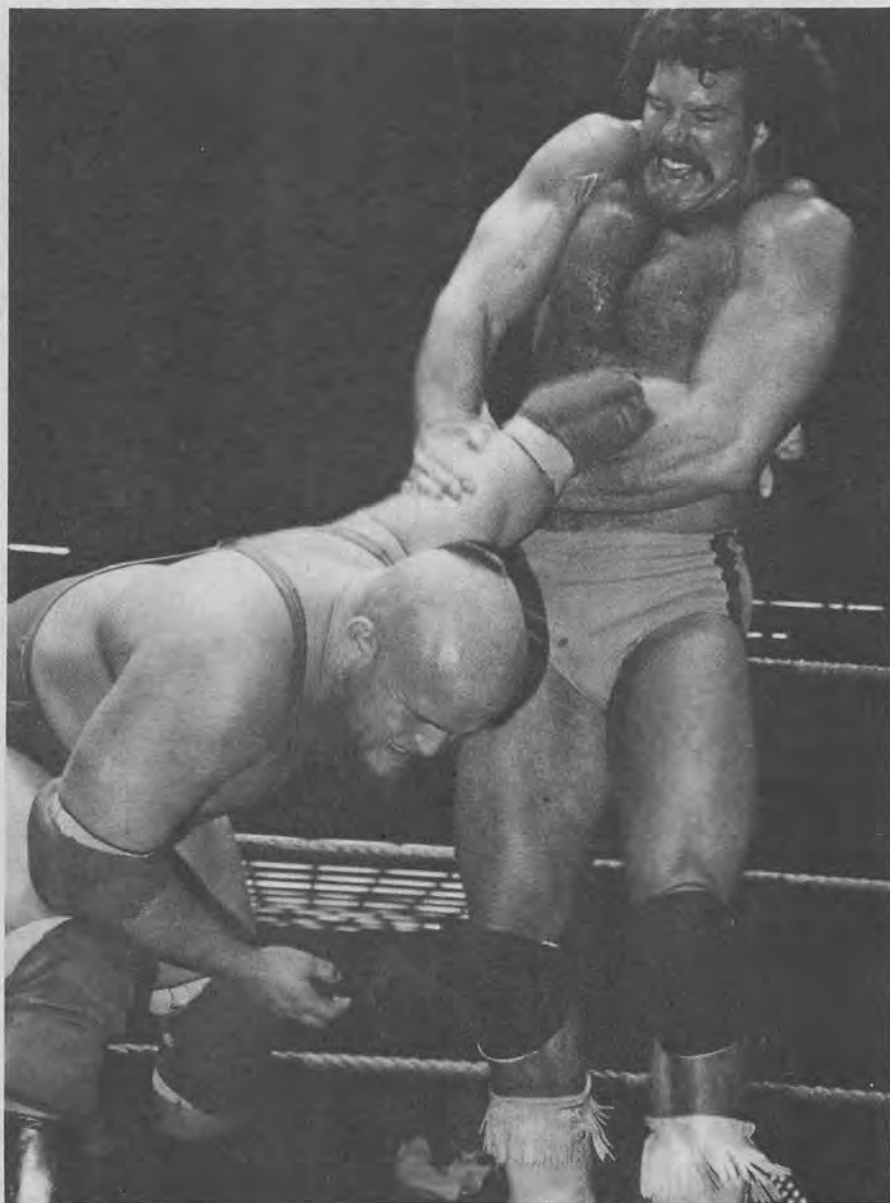

But young Scott Hall, barely out of his rookie year, has already injected a new sense of excitement and drama into the AWA. He is being touted as one of the very best of a bumper crop of rookie stars from last year, and his admirers are hardly overstating his case.

Granted, Hall has a long way to go. Of course Hall's natural size and strength are his primary assets, but he has yet to learn how to capitalize on those natural physical gifts. He's limber enough to maneuver his 6'8" frame around the ring fairly well, but he's got to work on developing his speed. And, of course, he's got to develop an extensive repertoire of scientific maneuvers.

"Scott is still in the learning stages of his career, but he's coming along very, very well," said nine-time AWA World champion Verne Gagne, who has spent many hours in the gym training Hall. "The first step, of course, is to learn the sweet science of wrestling. He's got to emphasize the basics of the sport and build his knowledge of what kinds of maneuvers are available to him to use in the ring. And that's something that takes time.

"Hall is a young man whose size limits his use of certain kinds of maneuvers, but helps him in the use of others," Gagne continued. "For example, a high vertical suplex by Scott would be devastating if properly applied, but a flying vault pin attempt, such as Rick Martel often uses, would may be very difficult for him to execute.

"Once Hall develops his scientific knowledge," Gagne continued, "he'll have to work on developing his instinctual reactions, and that's something that really comes only with experience against a wide variety of opponents. Scott's a smart young man, and he'll pick up those skills quickly. I look for him to develop into world championship-caliber material in a very, very short time."

Gagne's prediction could well be right. Already there are comparisons being made between Hall and another similarly moustachioed heartthrob, Magnum T.A., and the idea of a Hall-T.A. tag team is already very intriguing.

Before that idea can even be entertained, however, Hall will have to continue to develop his skills in the AWA. Already, Hall has scored impressive victories throughout the area. He won a $100,000 battle royal on Thanksgiving day in St. Paul, which was preceded three weeks earlier by another battle royal victory in a 21-man contest in Milwaukee. He has wrestled tag team and singles matches against virtually everyone in the AWA. And along the way, he has succeeded in capturing more than an impressive won-loss record—he has captured the imagination of the AWA fans. And now the rest of the wrestling world is sitting up to take notice.

Right now, Scott Hall's future looks very bright indeed. He is just beginning to ride a wave of popularity that will undoubtedly grow greater in 1986. His skills, both mental and physical, are improving with every match. And each week brings hundreds of new fans into the fold.

"AWA World champion Scott Hall." It sounds right. And it may not be very far off. And should that happen, the AWA will undoubtedly crackle with electric excitement that a unique individual star can create.

After all, look what happened to the NWA and the WWF when a couple of guys by the names of Ric Flair and Hulk Hogan rose to prominence! □

These ratings are compiled by the editors with the assistance of promoters, wrestlers, and reporters around the country, and are based on won-lost records for the past month, quality of opposition, and the inherent skill of each wrestler . . . "Most Popular" and "Most Hated" ratings are based on nationwide surveys of wrestling fans and on mail that comes to our offices . . . Championships marked with asterisks on the "Roll Call of Champions" indicate title changes that have taken place since our previous issue . . . The information under the championship listing indicates the date that champion won the title, who the former champion was, and where the match took place . . . Though several Canadian and Japanese championships are listed in the "Roll Call," the ratings themselves reflect United States-based competition.

Starrcade's Over, But The Feud

DUSTY RHODES & R CANNOT SURVIVE '86!

One fact about Starrcade '85 is undeniable: The main event between Ric Flair and Dusty Rhodes will go down in wrestling history as a classic. But anyone who thinks that match solved anything between the two men had better think again!

NWA champion Ric Flair reaches over the ropes and grabs a handful of Dusty Rhodes' curly blond locks.

DUSTY RHODES' FACE was bathed in sweat. Each salty bead of perspiration reflected both the glare of the arena spotlights and the exhaustion of his body's superhuman efforts, then dropped to the mat to further drench the already soggy canvas.

Ric Flair's face was also bathed in sweat, but there was something else there that is seldom seen in the countenance of the NWA World champion: desperation.

The muscles on the forehead, just between the eyes, tensed with the unimaginable stress of the moment. The teeth clenched. The pulse raced. The chest heaved. Desperation—an alien emotion to Ric Flair. Desperation, for it seemed as if his third NWA title reign would in a matter of minutes—perhaps even seconds—come to an end.

Desperation turned to relief as Flair's cousins, Ole and Arn Anderson, charged the ring. Arn hit the ring first. Dusty kicked him in the head with his boot—that controversial “reinforced” boot—and sent Arn sprawling to the arena floor. Ole hit the ring next, attacked Dusty, and Flair went in for the pin.

Referee Tommy Young had been knocked out of the ring only minutes earlier. No referee was there to make the count. Flair looked up for the referee, Dusty moved swiftly, and seconds later had Flair locked up in a small package. By then, a second referee, Gene Ligon, had come into the ring. Ligon made the three-count, and a new NWA World champion was crowned.

Or so it seemed.

NWA President Bob Geigel was in Atlanta's Omni for the match. Following extensive discussions with referee Tommy Young, it was determined that Young, though on the arena floor, had nevertheless already disqualified Flair Dusty's biggest weakness is his susceptibility to cuts. Before long, the blood begins to trickle down his face.

for outside interference as soon as Arn Anderson hit the ring. In effect, everything that occurred in the match from that point on, including of course the pinfall, was in an official sense declared null and void.

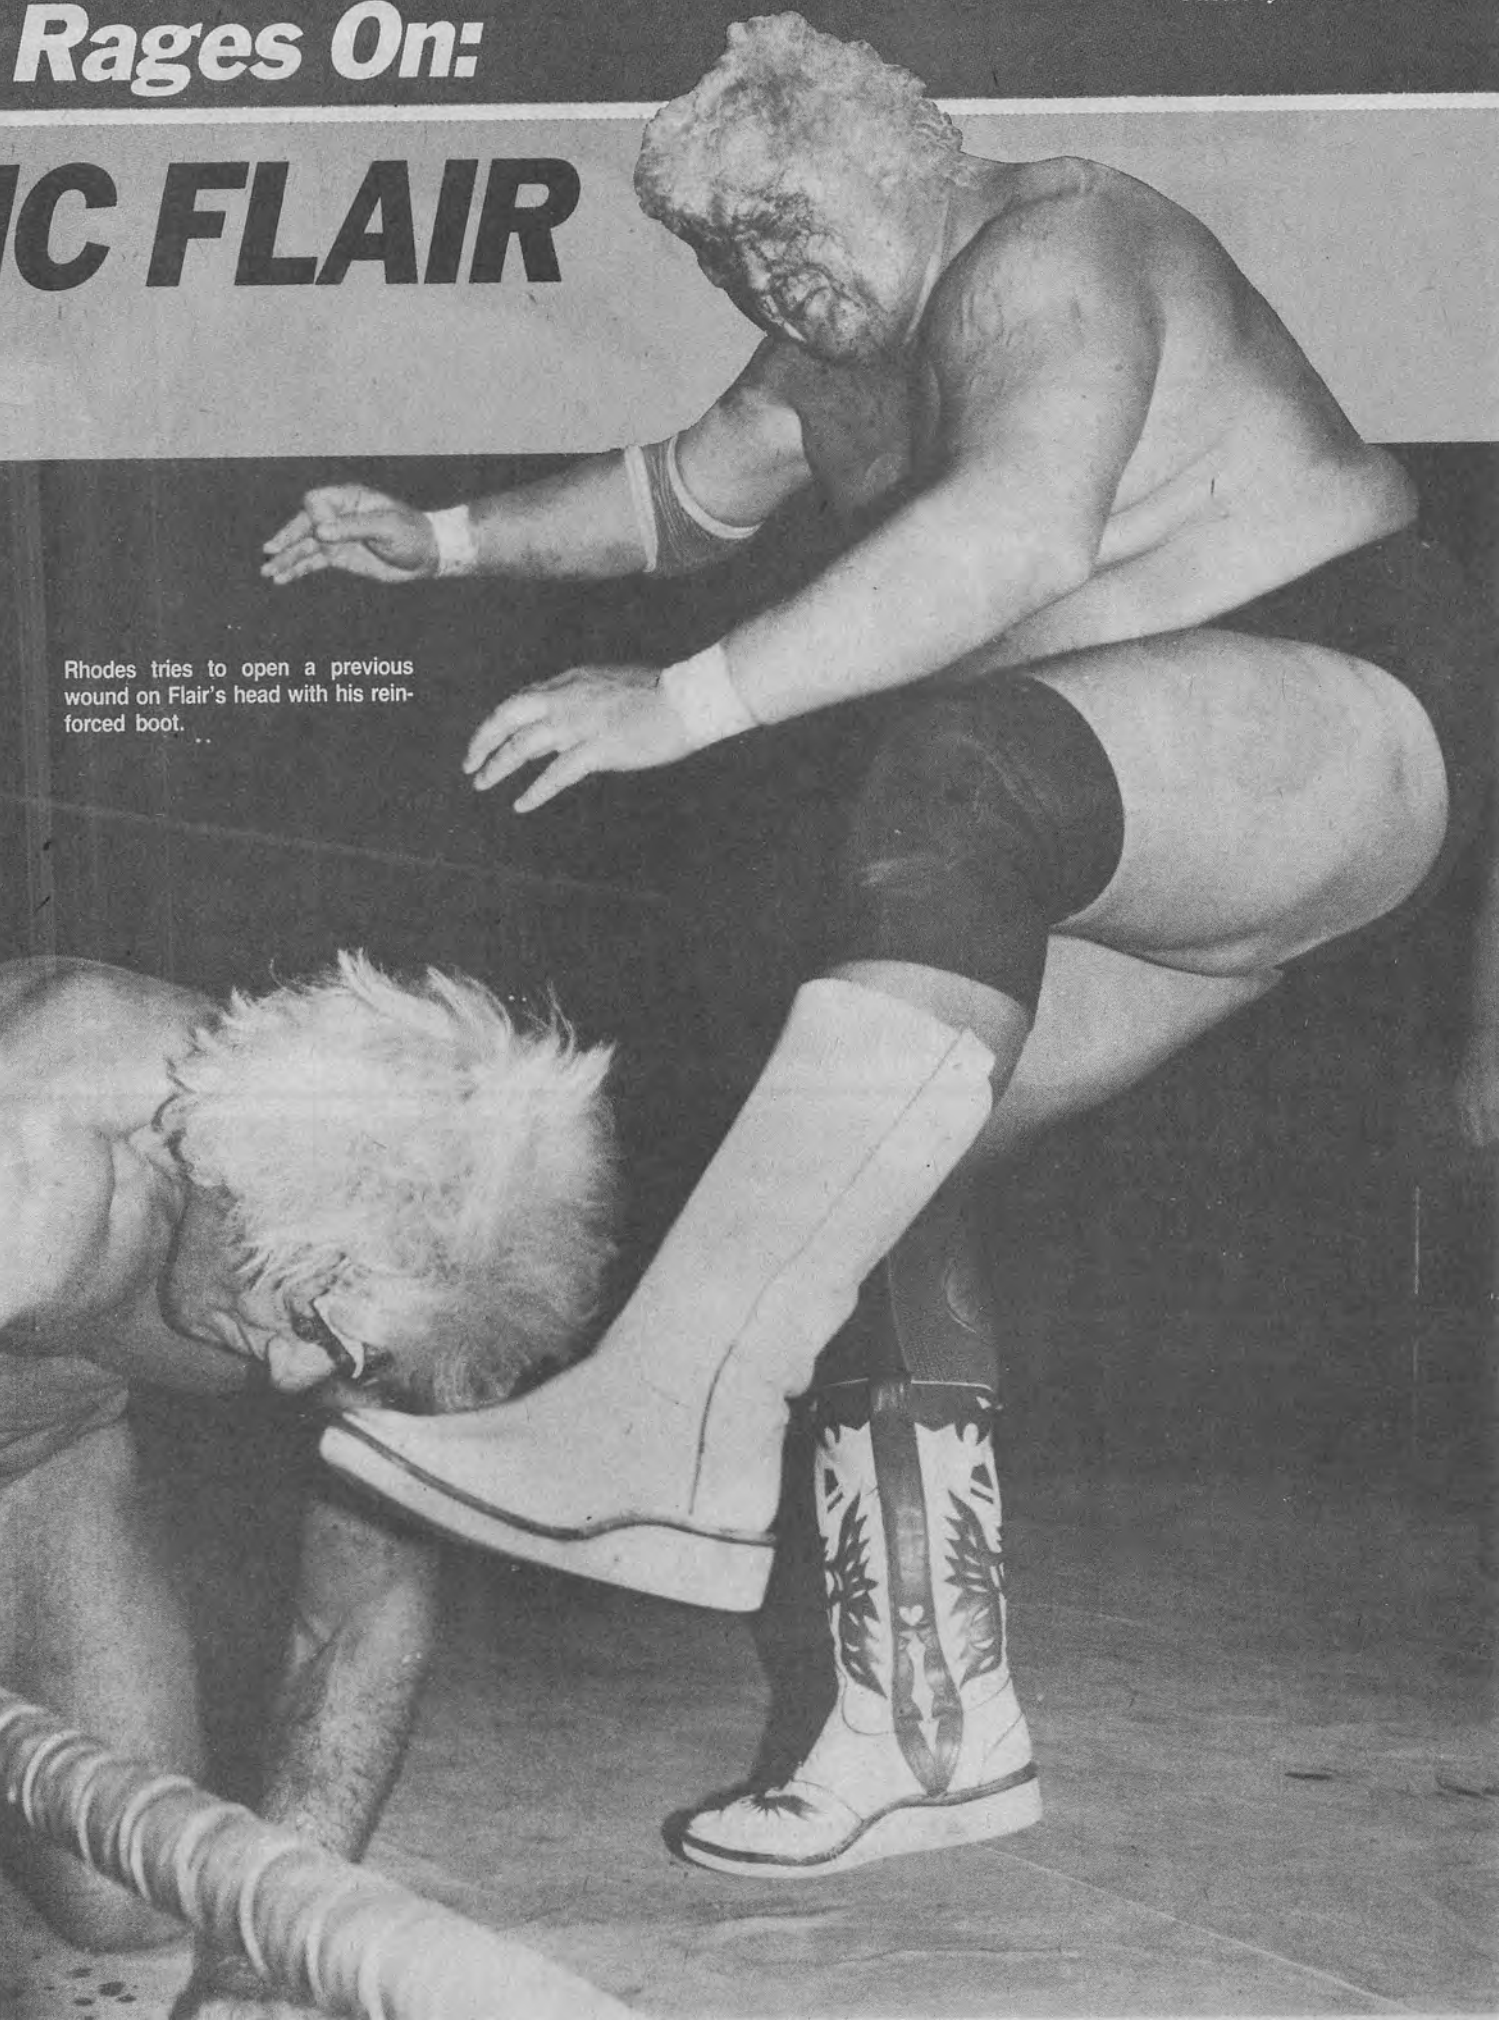

In a practical sense, it was just the beginning.

Dusty Rhodes was sprawled comfortably on the couch in his den. A sturdy coffee table was set next to the couch, and Dusty rested his left leg on

Andre's Battle Plan: --- SLAY TWO GIANTS TO CAPTURE A WEASEL

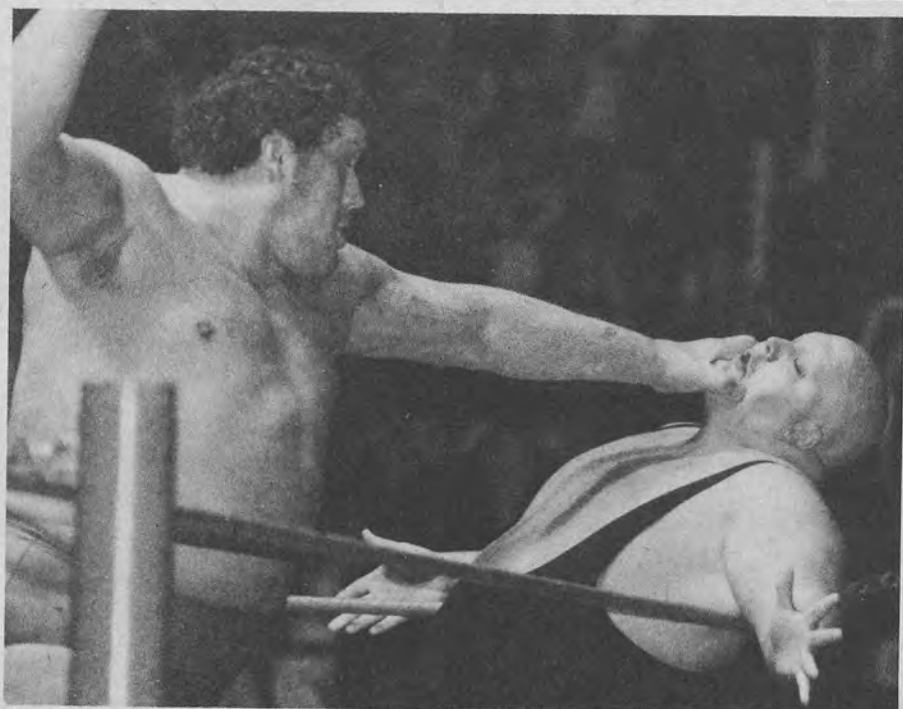

Andre had to knock off John Studd and King Kong Bundy

BOYLE HENDRICKSON LIT a big fat Te-Amo and proposed a toast. "To my mother, Freida, who can't be with us here celebratin' today 'cause she's in St. Agnes' gettin' her gallbladder taken out. I love ya, Ma."

The group clanged their wine glasses together in a riotous explosion of mirth and returned to their separate islands of thought. Boyle turned to his brother-in-law Bobo, looked him affectionately in the eye, and said, "Bobo, if you didn't lend me that deuce, I never woulda bought me that Lotto ticket. Imagine that! Fourteen grand down the tubes!

"Don't you worry now, Bobo. I ain't gonna forget you. You're in for a cut. Don't you worry."

After 36 years of drudgery

Bundy is defenseless against a raging Andre the Giant. It takes a lot to get the Giant angry. Those who do usually regret it for the rest of their careers—if they have any.

... before he could sink his feet into Bobby Heenan.

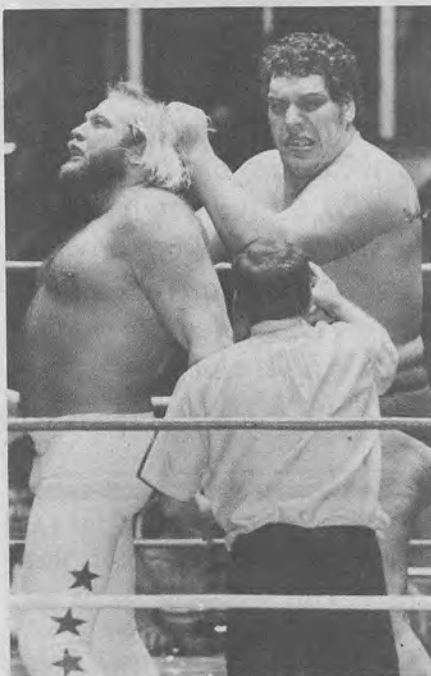

Andre the Giant had to plow through 800 pounds of protection, but when the smoke cleared, it was Bobby Heenan who felt the weight of the Giant's wrath dipped in misery, Boyle Hendrickson finally hit it big. The Instant Lottery paid him a cool $14,000, which was more money than he had ever dreamed of having at once.

He was good to his word and didn't forget his brother-in-law. After clearing his debts, Boyle used the remaining $9,000 to purchase the equipment the two men needed to start their own cleaning service. They harvested dirt from all over town. Auditoriums, gymnasiums, and ballrooms shined in their wake. They scrubbed banquet halls and sanitized arenas. The men loved the after-party more than the party itself, and their prices were so low they soon had more work than they could handle.

As lifelong wrestling enthusiasts,

Andre would like to rip off Studd's hair and carry it around in a paper bag for a while. The referee issues a warning.

Boyle and Bobo loved working the arenas after a wrestling match. Their crew could spot shine a 10,000-seat building in under four hours, while Boyle and Bobo rummaged around ringside for souvenirs.

The residual filth of a wrestling match is unlike the garbage of any other sporting event. In less than six months, Boyle recovered 11 different foreign objects, eight teeth, sixteen pieces of torn clothing, two blood-soaked bandanas, four chains, two pair of sunglasses, a shredded boot, a bottle of perfume, two canes, a tennis racket, and the AWA championship belt ("Martel threw it under the ring and forgot about it," Bobo explained). They returned the belt.

"HULK HOGAN COULDN'T LAST FIVE MINUTES IN A MID-SOUTH MATCH!"

BILL WATTS HAS lived and breathed professional wrestling for the better part of three decades. Following his 1962 ring debut, "Cowboy" Bill Watts quickly earned a reputation as one of the sport's toughest grapplers. Throughout the '60s and '70s, the Oklahoma Stampede—Watts' own form of bulldog—became one of the most feared weapons in the sport.

Today, Watts has cut down drastically on his active wrestling, but not on his participation in the sport. As president of Mid-South Wrestling, Watts heads one of the most successful promotions in the country. The Mid-South television program has been ranked by Arbitron as the highest-rated syndicated sports program in the country, and live cards of Mid-South wrestling draw millions of fans each year.

Watts is an outspoken individual with strong opinions on the sport and the people who are shaping wrestling today, particularly WWF head Vince McMahon. Associate Editor Craig Peters recently spoke with Watts by phone from Vail, Colorado. Sitting on the second story of his three-story condo, Watts took a break in between skiing lessons to speak with Peters about McMahon and the changing state of wrestling today.

Q: I think a good place to start, Bill, would be your general views on the state of wrestling today as a former wrestler and president of Mid-South Wrestling.

A: Well, I think certainly wrestling has in some ways expanded. In most major markets that have cable, there's up to 18 hours per week of Vince McMahon's doing just what they did to boxing some 20, 25 years ago when they started televising boxing out of Madison Square Garden and killed the small fight clubs.

wrestling on television. So for the television wrestling aficionado, that is fantastic. But as far as for an actual promoter, at some point that 18 hours of free wrestling per week becomes a negative, because people can fulfill or satiate their desire to see wrestling at home. Now what that's going to do is change the face of wrestling where smaller markets become a thing of the past. The big markets will be the only places where you'll be able to make enough money for the costs that are involved in promoting wrestling. And you'll only be able to go to the major markets less times. So, in the long run, the consumer who wants to see live wrestling may suffer.

Q: Obviously, Vince McMahon has been the cause of a lot of this.

A: Well, certainly. He's been very smart, very brilliant in his game plan. He's doing just what they did to boxing some 20, 25 years ago when they started televising live boxing out of Madison Square Garden and killed the small fight clubs. In the Mid-South area, we've already quit running some of the smaller towns. Of course, when you say "smaller town," it depends on what your definition of a smaller town is. To Vince McMahon, a small town could be half a million people. He ran Oklahoma City five times last year, and that's a million people, and he only ran Houston seven times the previous 12 months, and that's a giant town. Whereas we're accustomed to running Oklahoma City every two weeks, or Houston every two weeks. So as he comes into these markets, that's where the competition will be, in these major markets. But he won't be able to go into these small markets that traditionally have been the places for a young wrestler to mature and to come along, and it will also cut down on the number of wrestlers needed. When I got into pro wrestling, there were over 20 booking offices in the United States alone, and now it's down to maybe six major offices.

Hulk Hogan has no athletic background whatsoever. I don't think Hulk could come down to Mid-South, get in the ring with Steve 'Dr. Death' Williams, and last five minutes.

Q: Do you foresee a day where all this expansion will kind of explode and collapse on itself?

A: Well, I don't know. I hate to be a pessimist. I think that the guys that are really sharp will survive and do well. There's a lot of new things that are coming about because of McMahon. There's a less negative attitude toward people buying advertising on wrestling shows. Wrestling is a hot commodity television-wise, but, of course, the reason for that is not just McMahon. The reason for that is so many new independent stations and cable systems needing programming. And the programming is drying up. I mean, after they've played all the thousands of titles of movies and everything that's in stock, you can't make new movies that fast. You can't get new, fresh programming. Wrestling is fresh, it's new, it's not repeats, it's something that's ongoing, and it gets tremendous ratings. The television programmers are starting to find that out, and now even some of the advertisers are starting to realize it.

Terry Taylor uses his leg strength to bridge off the mat in an attempt to break free of Steve Williams' headlock. Watts feels that the caliber of wrestling in the Mid-South is far superior to that in the WWF.

Q: Wrestling fans might not realize that Mid-South is the highest-rated syndicated show in the country.

A: We are the number-one-rated sports show in America today, according to the Arbitron syndication analysis. Yet we haven't been able to go up on the satellite or cable like McMahon or [Jim] Crockett. Eventually, somebody's gonna recognize the quality of our program, and we will finally get some of this gravy, so to speak. However, our primary goal has been to promote the Mid-South area.

Q: If you could, in a few words, compare and contrast the three major champions in wrestling: Ric Flair, Rick Martel, and Hulk Hogan.

A: Hulk Hogan I've watched. Without a doubt he's got tremendous charisma. He's an exciting, explosive, huge guy. He has no athletic background whatsoever. I've watched several of his matches; I've never seen one of his matches go past eight minutes, and that's entry, music, and departure. So he doesn't give over five minutes of wrestling. Now, that because of one of two things: Either they're booking him against a bunch of bums, or he's so much better he can beat everybody in the world in five minutes. And I don't buy that. Hulk Hogan couldn't last five minutes in a Mid-South match. I don't think Hulk could come down to Mid-South, get in the ring with "Dr. Death" Steve Williams, and last five minutes. Or Butch Reed. Or Jim Duggan. I think any one of those three guys would clean his clock. As a matter of fact, he wouldn't get in the ring with them.

He backed down from a challenge in New York from Bob Backlund, who was a former WWF man! To me, Hulk Hogan is a tremendous piece of showbiz propaganda. McMahon has done a fantastic job of marketing him. And the sad thing is, in this country today if you tell somebody long enough and hard enough on television what you want them to believe, they'll start believing it. The guy in the street thinks Hulk Hogan is the world champion, and that's a travesty.

Q: Rick Martel?

A: Rick Martel I don't know that well. I have not used Rick Martel. We've used Nick Bockwinkel in Houston when he was the AWA World champion. I've known Nick for a long, long time, he's got an athletic background. Martel looks to be an athlete—from what I understand he is very athletic, and does some great moves. But I can't really give you my opinion of him, because I haven't been around him.

Q: Ric Flair I know you're very familiar with.

A: I've known Flair since he started in this business. He's spent a lot of time in it, he's paid his dues. He is in tremendous condition. I've seen him go an hour, I've seen him go 40, 35 minutes. It kind of reminds me of Dory Funk Jr., who used to say, "If I take a guy past 35 minutes, he can't beat me." Flair can't go out there and overpower anybody, he's got to go out there and use endurance, tactics, psychology, and stay in that match. And he's a master at it. He's done very, very well.

Q: Flair wrestles often in the Mid-South area . . .

A: Well, I'd like to see Hulk Hogan come into the Mid-South area and wrestle some of the Mid-South stars, too. But as you know, that's impossible, because McMahon will never let that happen. [Verne] Gagne offered to put $100,000 up if Hulk Hogan would get in the ring with Bob Backlund, and they wouldn't even take it. So you see, he's very, very protected, he's only booked against people that Titan Sports controls. Now I'm not a member of the NWA; when Flair comes into my area, he wrestles my wrestlers. They're under no ties to the NWA at all. I'm an independent promotion. So therefore, when he comes into our area and

I'd like to see Hulk Hogan come into the Mid-South area and wrestle some of the Mid-South stars. But, as you know, that's impossible, because McMahon will never let it happen.

As president of Mid-South wrestling, Bill Watts works long hours in his Bixby, Oklahoma, office. As we conducted this interview, he was taking his first vacation in years.

wrestles and defends that title, his butt's on the line. This is something McMahon won't do, he won't cross those lines. Everyone Hulk Hogan wrestles is strictly WWF.

Q: Are there ever times you think about quitting professional wrestling completely?

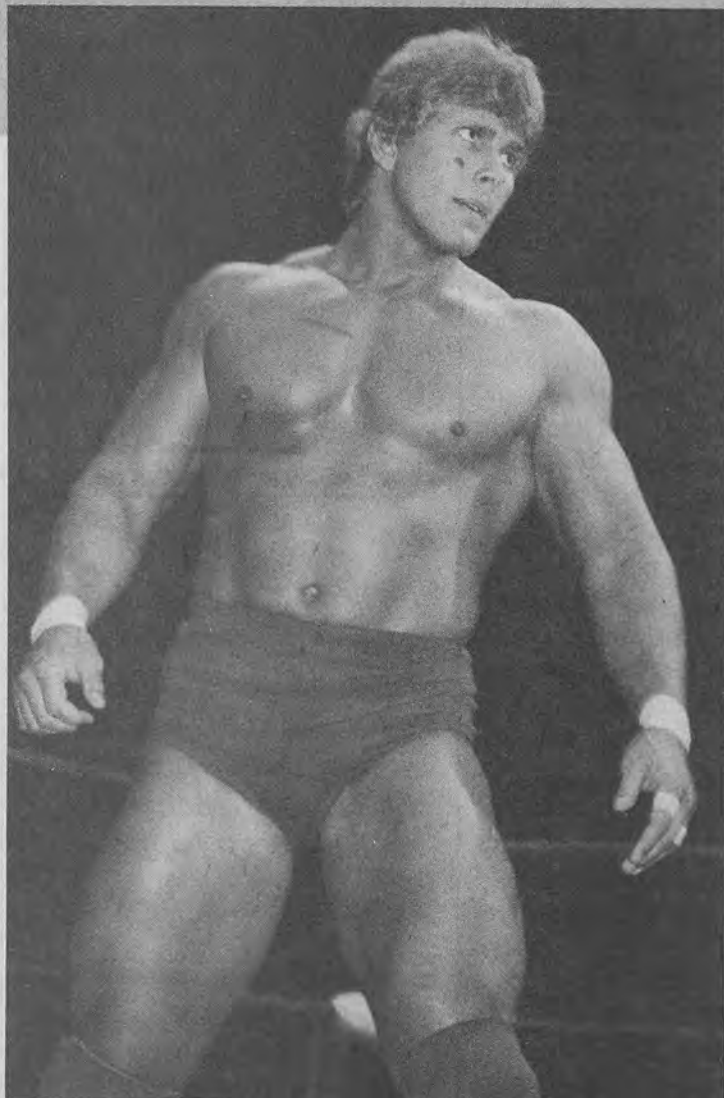

A: I've considered selling out or retiring and just relaxing, because wrestling's been very good to me. I'm well invested, I've got a lot of property. Some of the things I see about wrestling today are so negative they're very discouraging. But some of the new things I see about it, I want to stay around it just to see what happens.

Q: It really is quite a rollercoaster.

A: Yes it is, but I guess if we had a crystal ball it wouldn't be nearly as exciting. □

ARE THE VON ERICHS THEIR FALL

Photos by Buddy Myers

If the Von Erichs are making Lance their sacrificial lamb, Gino Hernandez would be happy to do the sacrificing. Gino works Lance over outside the ring (above).

Is Fritz Von Erich setting up his nephew Lance to take the brunt of every rulebreaker's assault? According to Gino Hernandez that's exactly the Von Erich plan and judging from Lance's brutal schedule, he might have a point GINO HERMANDEZ GAZED forthrightly into the cameras, his smile threatening to dislodge his mask, something that his opponent, Lance Von Erich, tried to do, and almost died in the attempt. Hernandez spoke as a man possessed, his being consumed by an unholy vision.

"All hail this body beautiful! Forever worship this mask, this person, this piece of perfection! I have exposed the Von Erichs as the trembling cowards they are. They would sacrifice one of their kin to save their own hides. Feeding a rook like Lance to me is like throwing the Christians to the lions. He doesn't have a chance.

"Now maybe the world will take note of what Kevin and Kerry Von Erich really stand for. Spell it out. M-u-d. They eat it, roll in it, dress up in it, and serve it to their fans. They're nothing and never have been. Chris Adams' been telling people that for years. Now I suspect people will listen more carefully."

In his wake was left the rumbling echos of a rumor too hot to fade. Ever since his debut in the World Class area several months ago, Lance Von Erich has wrestled opponents sharing particulars like experience, strength, knowledge, and savvy, not to mention a rare penchant for brutality.

The roster of Lance's opponents reads like a Who's Who of Texas wrestling: So far he's battled The Grappler, Gino Hernandez, Killer Brooks, and NWA champion Ric Flair, men who have been in and out of rings many years longer than Von Erich. Most newcomers to the area are weaned slowly to the ferocious pace of the World Class; Lance Von Erich wrestled Flair in his first month in the area.

There were two prevailing theories for Lance's sudden emergence in main events, before Hernandez offered his third. One was that his tenure in Portland under the name of Ricky Vaughn provided him with all the experience he needed. Pacific Northwest promoter Don Owens supports this theory, saying, "Ricky learned his craft well in Portland. He came here green and left a champion. He made everyone proud while he was champion. Everyone underestimates us out here. Truth is, a lot of wrestlers have cemented their reputations in the Northwest. Ricky is capable of wrestling with anyone in the world. I'm not surprised at all with his success."

Then there's the You Can't Argue With Mother's Milk hypothesis, which pays reverence to the Von Erich gene pool. Members of wrestling's first family, the theory argues, are exempt from the arduous climb up the ladder of success. Their heritage has endowed them with a natural ability that allows them to take the elevator to superstardom.

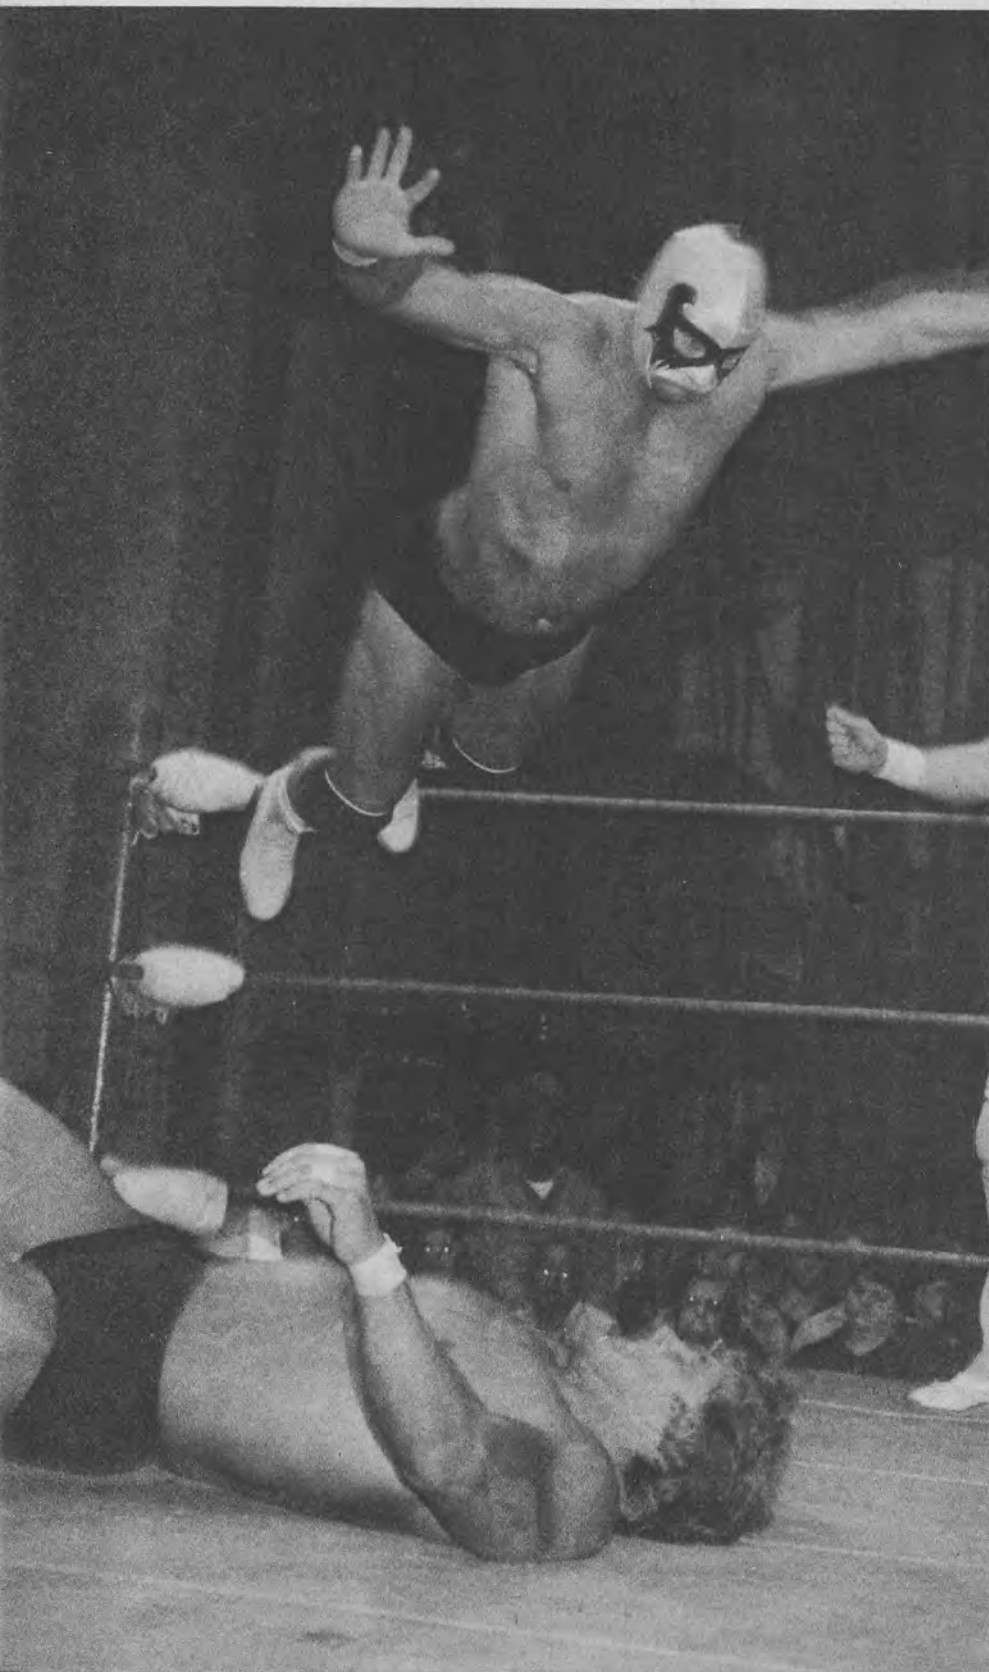

Both theories make sense when applied to Lance Von Erich. He did develop in Portland, moving gracefully from prelims to main events to the Pacific Northwest championship. And he is a Von Erich, and despite any negative connotation that the name conjurs for Gino Hernandez, he cannot argue with their success over the generations.

Until Hernandez steamrolled Lance recently, this Von Erich had held his own against every contender he had wrestled. "The kid surprised the hell out of me," admitted Flair. "I figured I'd make an example out of the kid. I took him for a punk. I figured the only reason he got a title shot was because his uncle Fritz pulled some strings.

"In all fairness, I'd have to say that Lance is far ahead of both Kerry and Kevin at this stage of his career. He wrestles much older than he really is."

Hernandez, executing a bodyslam, claims that Lance is not ready for the caliber of opponents he has been given. NWA World champion Ric Flair, for one, disagrees.

Von Erich braces himself for a flying Hernandez. At this stage in his career, Von Erich cannot be expected to defeat a world-class veteran like Gino every time they meet. Hernandez, however, doesn't think Lance belongs in the same ring with him.

The quote from Flair, who is as generous with his compliments as he is with his title belt, is convincing, but still could not win over Hernandez.

"Bullcrap!" he roared, upon hearing Flair's comments. "Flair is playing politics, as usual. He knows Fritz would rather sacrifice Lance than one of his own boys. It all goes back to the falling out he and his bubbleheaded brother Waldo had way back when. Now Fritz is getting back at him by throwing Lance in with the big boys.

"I don't care. I'd rather be chewing on the K boys than a rook like Lance, but I'll take a slab of Von Erich meat whenever I can get it. If Big Daddy Fritz keeps this up, there won't be anymore Lance to beat up on soon."

Lance finds all this yap ridiculous. "All a gimp like Gino can do

Von Erich made the rookie mistake of concentrating his efforts on unmasking his opponent. It would cost him several advantages.

is talk. He can't wrestle, can't fight, and can't comb his hair. All he can do is try to stir up trouble out of the ring, since he's helpless in the ring. Better people than Gino Hernandez have tried to rip this family apart. It'll do him no good. We're too close for that to happen.

"He's just jealous that I'm fighting for the NWA title while he's running around with a stupid mask on his head. The next time we wrestle I'll put the fear of God into him. That's a lock.

"No one violates a Von Erich without paying the price." □

SMOKERS . . .

YOUR NEXT PACK OF CIGARETTES CAN BE THE LAST PACK OF CIGARETTES YOU EVER SMOKE!

• How many times have you wished you could quit smoking but were afraid to try?

• How many times have you tried to quit smoking and failed?

• How many times have you wished someone or something could really help you stop smoking?

In Just 3 Weeks We GUARANTEE YOU WILL HAVE QUIT SMOKING CIGARETTES . . . Or Your Money Back!

NOW AT LAST THERE IS AN EASY WAY TO HELP YOU STOP SMOKING CIGARETTES! IT'S TRUE! READ THE FACTS BELOW.

The Surgeon General has warned that smoking cigarettes is dangerous to your health . . . that smoking causes unnecessary physical suffering . . . that smoking kills! YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE but you keep on smoking? Why? Because cigarette smoking is considered to be a medical addiction that can be as difficult to kick as alcohol or even heroin!

You Need Help To Break This Addiction! You Need Help To Stop Smoking!

If you want to quit smoking, HELP IS NOW AVAILABLE. A new Smoking Deterrent Drug Product called NICO-QUIT can give you the help you need to once and for all stop smoking.

HERE'S HOW NICO-QUIT WORKS

When you wake up in the morning you will spray your mouth with NICO-QUIT. You will taste a clean, pleasant peppermint flavor that freshens your breath. When you have your first cigarette of the day, NICO-QUIT goes to work instantly. NICO-QUIT contains a medically safe ingredient (Silver Acetate) that reacts with the nicotine in the cigarette smoke. The moment you take a drag on your cigarette, NICO-QUIT almost miraculously causes you to instantly lose your desire to take another puff . . . so effectively you'll immediately put out the cigarette.

But remember . . . smoking is an addictive habit. Your body will demand another dose of nicotine which means you'll light up another cigarette. But NICO-QUIT instantly counteracts the demand and you'll put out the second cigarette even more quickly than the first!

This pattern of demand and counteraction will slowly but surely affect how often you reach for a cigarette. More and more time will elapse between cigarettes. And every time you succumb and light up a cigarette, you'll instantly realize you can't smoke the cigarette . . . that you don't want to smoke the cigarette . . . and will crush it out with a new found strength . . . and with a new found pleasure of finally realizing that you truly are going to quit smoking!

Found Safe By The Advisory Review Panel Appointed By The Department Of Health And Human Service Of The United States Food And Drug Administration

Silver Acetate (the medically safe ingredient in NICO-QUIT) has been found safe to use by the Food and Drug Administration. You'll be amazed how quickly NICO-QUIT helps you lose the desire to smoke. And just one spraying of NICO-QUIT lasts for up to four hours. Then, just spray again and you're protected for another four hours. The pleasant flavor doesn't affect the taste of food or drink . . . but always reacts with the nicotine in cigarette smoke.

LET NICO-QUIT HELP YOU QUIT SMOKING ONCE AND FOR ALL!

No matter how long you've been smoking . . . no matter how many packs of cigarettes you smoke each day . . . no matter how many times you've tried to stop smoking and failed . . . NICO-QUIT WILL HELP YOU TO COMPLETELY STOP SMOKING in just 3 short weeks. It's guaranteed or your full purchase price will be refunded with absolutely no questions asked.

The telephone wires sizzle every month as two top wrestlers voice their rage and hostility toward each other. This is the unedited transcript of their conversation, your chance to see the raw emotion that results when two antagonists face off ... One on One

ONE ON ONE

"You submitted! You done cried for your mommy and gave up the title. I didn't think you'd squat that low!"

—Stan Hansen

FOR OVER A year and a half, Rick Martel successfully defended his AWA World heavyweight title and earned a distinguished reputation for scientific excellence in the face of dozens of challengers. On December 29, 1985, in East Rutherford, New Jersey, Martel's title reign came to an end.

For much of November and December, Stan Hansen had been Martel's most determined challenger. The hatred between the two men reached a violent crescendo on Christmas night in St. Paul: During their title match, Hansen dragged Martel out of the ring, slammed him back-first into the steel cornerpost several times, and battered Martel's spine with a steel chair.

When Martel stepped into the ring in New Jersey's Brendan Byrne Meadowlands Arena four days later, he was wrestling injured. A lesser champion might have taken some time off from the ring to allow himself to recuperate. Martel was not a lesser champion.

In the Meadowlands match, Hansen's attack was relentless. "The Bad Man from Borger, Texas" concentrated his attack on Martel's injured back, pummeling the champion with an awe-inspiring series of suplexes and saltos.

Finally, Hansen captured Martel in the "Brazos Valley backbreaker," his version of the Boston crab. Martel, fearing a career-threatening back injury, opted to submit the match—and his world title—to Hansen.

On the day after the match, Inside Wrestling was fortunate to be able to contact both men via telephone and have them discuss this match ... "One on One."

STAN HANSEN:

So, how does it feel to be an ex-champion, you stupid Canuck?

RICK MARTEL:

Hansen, I know you want to peeve me. I know you want ...

SH: I don't have to peeve you, little girl! I damn near crippled you last night, and I took your greasy belt and strapped it around my waist, boy. I'm World champion, boy. How does that make you feel, boy?

RM: Like I was about to say, Hansen, I knew you'd want to gloat about it. That is the difference between you and I, Hansen. You weigh 300 pounds, and you are strong, but you have the heart and soul of a child.

SH: What are you talkin' about, boy? Did them doctors feed you some of them funny pills for your back and mess your little peabrain up? Haw!

RM: Shut your mouth, Hansen. I am man enough to call you on the aftermath of your victory. You

N ONE

"I will admit that you were the best man last night. My mistake was only to take the match, with my injuries."

—Rick Martel

should be man enough to listen.

SH: I don't have enough to listen to no moosehead scum who ain't man enough to save his title! You flamin' sissy boy, you ought to be ashamed of yourself for givin' it up! You submitted to me, son! You done cried for your mommy and gave up the title. You don't deserve to be champion. I knew you wrestled like a lady, but I didn't think you'd squat that low! Submittin' your damn title away—shooooot!

RM: Hansen, I've run across your type all my life. I've had all kinds of jerks come up to me with empty threats on their lips. They think that I . . .

SH: Empty threats? I made good on my threat, boy, I whupped your Canuck butt for the title!

RM: You shut your redneck mouth! Yes, I'll stoop to name-calling if you continue to insult my French-Canadian heritage. Look, Hansen, I respect you as a wrestler, and I will admit that you were the best man last night. You won fairly, without cheating. My mistake was only to take the match, with my injuries, because I did not want to let my fans down on such an important evening. But I accept the burden of my defeat. That is where we differ, boy. In all of our previous matches, you complained about the officiating, the weather, what have you, to excuse your failure . . .

SH: I never failed! Holy crap, I'll whup on you with this belt just like I whup on my fat ol' ugly wife Emma Lou when she don't make my chili hot enough . . .

RM: That is why you're not man enough to wear a championship belt. It takes a man to admit his weaknesses. When I lose, I admit I am not perfect. When you lose, you complain. You lash out at the fans, the officials, and even your own family. That signifies the worst cowardice. You are talented, but you disgrace yourself with your juvenile ranting and raving.

SH: Mighty big words I'm hearin' from a little washed-up goon from Queer-bec City. You can't even get up out of bed to brush your pretty white teeth and use that little ol' trainin' potty of yours with the swans on it 'cause I broke your back. I got a wife and nine kids, I ain't no juvenile. Who's takin' care of you while you're in traction?

RM: I'm not in traction, but I'm making sure I'll be in triple-A condition next time I meet you in the ring. Your taunts don't annoy me in the slightest. You're a desperate man. You know the Stan Hansen championship era won't last long. I give it a couple of months, tops.

SH: You're nuts. You must be one of them suicidal types. Face facts, lady. You don't belong in the same ring with a man like Stan Hansen. You don't even belong on the same connection. I'm hangin' up. (Click.)

RM: Go ahead, Hansen. No bully can stand to hear the truth about himself. I may be an ex-champion, but I am still a proud man. Like any arrogant macho fool, you are eternally frightened. I am confident. You cannot keep that title from me for long. □ feud between Steamboat and Flair in the Mid-Atlantic states several years ago. Today Steamboat and Flair are very good friends, but in the past their battles in the squared circle were very much like the battles between Steamboat and Muraco today. Since both Steamboat and Muraco are Hawaiians, as pointed out in your article, their feud is unusually different from the average wrestling feud.

I collect magazines with pictures and articles about Rick Steamboat and always look forward to future features on this wrestler. He is one of the most interesting contemporary wrestlers. In my opinion, he is the best wrestler today. His new "image" he acquired in the WWF seems to be successful, and my friends and I like it. I am speaking of his ninja attire that he wears to the ring, and the addition of karate (within the rules of the WWF) that he now uses.

WWF FAT FARM

If you ask me, the WWF shouldn't stand for "World Wrestling Federation," it should stand for "where wrestlers fatten."

I can't believe what's happened to so many of my favorite wrestlers over the last couple of years. Andre the Giant, while never a poster boy for Jack LaLanne, has developed a belly that threatens to touch his toes—something

Andre the Giant, once in very good shape, has let himself go completely. Roger Larabee sees the same happening to quite a few WWF wrestlers.

I'm sure Andre hasn't done in years. Magnificent Muraco, once an agile athlete and perhaps the most dangerous man anywhere in wrestling, has become an overblown and puffy caricature of what he once was. Adrian Adonis, another man who never was in fantastic shape, used to have a body that was at least firm; now, Adonis' barrel chest makes him look ridiculous, and the waves of fat that wash over his stomach prevent me from taking him seriously as a wrestler anymore.

And now the same thing is happening to Hercules Hernandez. Any wrestling fan who remembers Hercules from his Mid-South days about a year and a half ago will recall that the man had a beautiful physique. Hernandez's washboard belly was ample proof of the fact that he worked out every day. But now that he's wrestling in the WWF, Hernandez has lost his physique and is beginning to gain a lot of weight.

It's truly a sad thing to see.

I watch the AWA show, because Prime Time Wrestling stinks, like all the other WWF shows do. Who wants to watch preliminary bums like S.D. Jones, Rene Goulet, and Barry O every week? The WWF seems determined to not put good matches on television. They must think that the fans have the I.Q. of a pebble to watch their stupid garbage. At least the AWA shows great matches like The Fabulous Freebirds vs. The Road Warriors.

And the AWA isn't afraid to put their champion, Rick Martel, on television. Hulk Hogan is rarely on TV to wrestle; you're more likely to find him on The A-Team or The Tonight Show. Hogan hasn't even defended the WWF title in Madison Square Garden for about five months!

Rick Martel executes a spinecrusher against Michael Hayes. Reader Ben Corrigan has a great deal of respect for Martel and the entire AWA.

I think Hogan takes wrestling, his title, and the fans too much for granted these days. In my opinion, the Hulkster is the biggest geek in wrestling. Rick Martel is a true world champion who works hard at defending the AWA title. Martel deserves far more attention than Hogan does.

I hope the AWA blows the WWF off the airwaves on Tuesday nights, because they most certainly deserve it.

There is rarely any letup when these two men step into the ring together. Flair will survive Rhodes' sleeper and moments later assume a lengthy offensive of his own.

the top of it.

"Let me tell you 'bout my doc, who says I still have to take it easy when I'm out of the ring," Dusty explained. "I can wrestle, you see, he's given me his okay for that, but I wrestle with pain. And it takes a while for that pain to go away after every match, so I still have to take care of things when I'm not wrestling so that I'll reach full recovery that much faster. It'll be months before I'm back to brand-new again, but I'll get there, don't you worry."

So much for the update on Dusty's leg, injured at the hands of Flair and the Andersons. What about his feud with Flair and the Starrcade controversy?

"I'll tell you something, daddy, I'll let Flair have that one," Dusty said. "He can have that one for the record books, because that match doesn't end a damn thing, it starts things in my book, you hear what I'm saying? Millions of people know, daddy, millions of people saw me pin Flair in the middle of the ring. I know it can be done, Flair knows it can be done, and the people know, daddy, the people know. It's just the beginning, daddy, just the beginning. This is the start of something big, you know what I mean?"

"Because Ricky Flair, daddy, Ricky Flair is gonna pay the price! Yes, daddy, he's gonna pay the price of knocking me down, of laying me up, of putting me out. He's gonna pay that price, daddy, and it's gonna be in blood, and it's gonna be with his title. Sometime in 1986, daddy, sometime it's gonna happen, the hammer's gonna fall. And it's gonna fall on Ric Flair's head!"

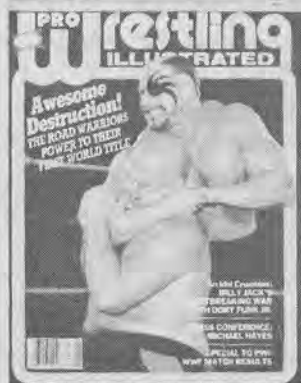

Dusty will have plenty of opportunities to make good on his vows in 1986. On the one hand, Dusty recently captured the National heavyweight title from Buddy Landell, which places him high on the official NWA ladder of contenders to Flair's title. On the other hand, NWA President Bob Geigel is considering several courses of action in the wake of the Starrcade controversy.

"Right now, I haven't made any kind of decision," Geigel told Inside Wrestling, "but I've got a few things in mind. I'm not at liberty to discuss them all, but I will say that they all offer a fair and equitable set of re-match opportunities for Rhodes to meet Flair in title situations."

One NWA source reports that Geigel is leaning towards the establishment of a "World Series" between Flair and Rhodes, a set of five, seven, or nine matches that would be held in various cities across the nation. All matches would be wrestled to a positive finish, and the winner of the most matches would receive the NWA title. Flair's lawyers are vehemently fighting that alternative.

To be sure, it appears as if 1986 will be the year for Dusty Rhodes. One way or another, he will receive his share of title matches against Flair. The controversy of Starrcade '85 may fade into history, but Dusty's run for the 10 pounds of gold, is only beginning.

The night after the Starrcade match, the two men were back in the ring in St. Louis. The outcome of the match—a draw—was far less significant than the effect that match had on both contestants. Rhodes sustained cuts that, even by Dusty's standards, were horrendous. Flair left the ring clutching his left shoulder and was diagnosed later as having a deep muscle bruise. In the press conference that followed, all Dusty would talk about was getting back in the ring with the champion. Publicly, at least, Flair said he would wrestle Rhodes "anytime, anywhere."

Rhodes, who has mastered the technique of seeing through blood, elbows Rhodes outside the ring.

It has been spoken about time and time again how deeply a long-running feud can affect the careers of two wrestlers. In the eyes of the combatants, the winner of this particular feud will cement the position as the top man in the NWA and perhaps all of wrestling. In the eyes of educated observers, there can be no winner in a war of this magnitude. In all likelihood, this feud will not stretch into 1987. □

Flair has the figure-four securely in place. Rhodes, an expert at applying it, is also an expert at reversing it.

The discovery they most treasure is a bag they found one night laying beside the ring. In the bag was a huge clump of Andre the Giant's hair.

"Bobby Heenan had been carrying it around for weeks and shoving it Andre's face when he wasn't looking," Boyle excitedly revealed. "Andre would try to get to Heenan, but the Weasel would always have King Kong Bundy or John Studd around to protect him.

"Bobo and I had never seen Andre so darn mad before. Heenan realized this also because after a while he always had Studd and Bundy in the ring with him. But one night Andre got him. Oooh, was that something to see. Bundy, Studd, and Weasel all against Andre and they couldn't stop. It was great. Andre gave them what they deserved and Bobo and I got Andre's hair, which Heenan dropped when he fled to the dressing room. What a deal."

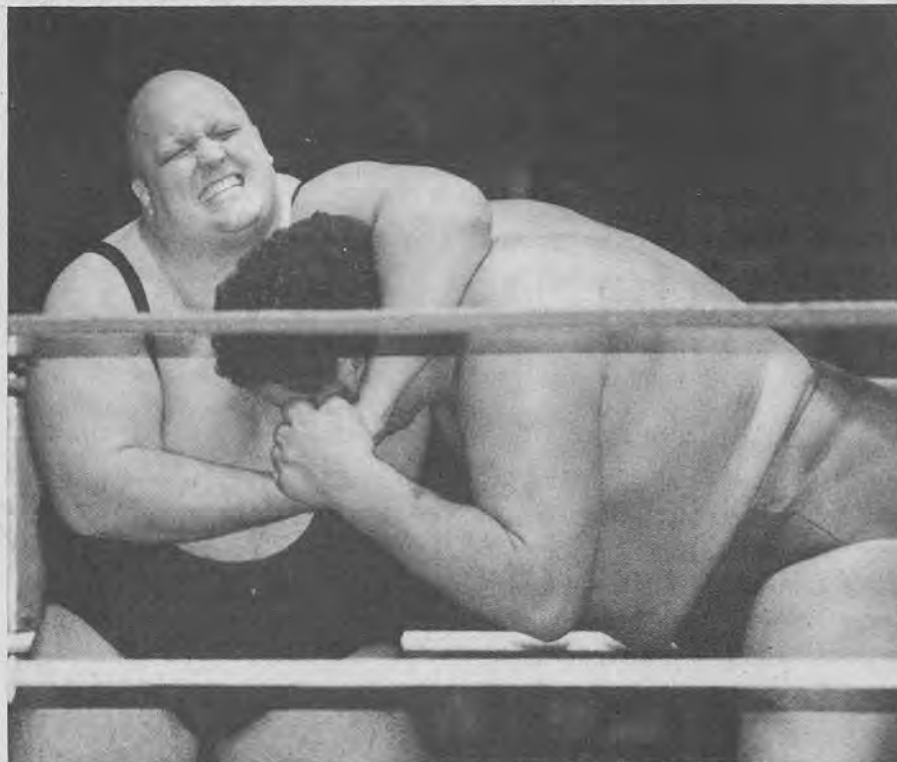

Ever since his hair was ignominiously sheared by Ken Patera, Studd and Heenan, Andre has been consumed by a revenge that has threatened his very life. His reckless assaults on Bobby Heenan have turned the Giant into easy pickings for a Bundy-Studd double-team. Never in his career has Andre embarked on a more ambitious and dangerous venture than trying to singlehandedly conquer 810 pounds of rulebreaking venom so that he might get to Bobby Heenan.

"Usually," Boyle said, "Heenan will always stay out of Andre's reach. I've seen him hide under the ring, sneak behind Bundy, hold a fan hostage, and run to the dressing room to avoid Andre. He's really a snivelin', simperin' weasel.

"You could tell by the look in his eye this night though that Andre meant business. He pulled all the stops. He would have torn the walls of the auditorium down if he had to."

Accustomed to having his way with his opponents, the undefeated Andre has had to accept a great deal more than an embarrassing haircut against Bundy, Studd, and Heenan (above). King Kong brings the Giant down to size with a headlock (below).

"And think of the mess that would have made," quipped Bobo.

The men were right about this night. Although officially the match was scheduled as a handicapped tag team encounter between Andre and Hillbilly Jim versus Bundy, Studd, and Heenan, the action revolved exclusively around the Giant.

True to form, Heenan never once tagged into the ring, allowing his twin towers of destruction to handle Andre. An early double-team hurt the Giant and left him vulnerable to several cheap blows from Heenan, a move the Weasel would soon come to regret. As the crowd stomped their feet, Andre shook his head, shrugged off Hillbilly's tag and went to work.

A thundering forearm sent Studd head-first over the top rope, leaving Andre alone with the alien counte-Andre's eyes are closed as he delivers this chop as are Heenan's when he receives it. Neither man will see the blow, only the effects of it.

nance of Bundy. A shot to his widened girth doubled Bundy over and Andre followed up with a sonic report to Bundy's mouth. Bundy would not raise another fist this night.

With a lightning quickness, Andre whirled to the other side of the ring and yanked a terrified Heenan over the ropes. Holding him in check with one of his meaty paws, Andre choked and beat on the helpless weasel. If it weren't for the intervention of Hillbilly Jim, Andre might have committed murder this night, his usually peaceful nature utterly consumed by months of rage.

While Andre's locks sat enshrined in his rumpus room, Boyle became earnest in his praise. "I'm just glad that a warrior like Andre got his chance," he said. "Andre has always given his best for the fans. Now he can rest easy. He got his revenge. Although I know this won't keep him satisfied. He'll want more. It's funny. I feel like I know the guy."

DRESSING ROOM

wants to commit himself to wrestling in any one area on a full-time basis at this time.

"I'm a little upset with a few things that have happened to me lately," he admits, "and it's going to take me a little time to get things in order."

What happened to David Sammartino in the WWF was virtually nothing. And that's the problem.

"By the time I went to the WWF," he said, "I had wrestled all over the country and felt I was was ready for some big matches. I was told to be patient. The promoters told me that in the WWF it doesn't matter what you did in another territory; you had to prove yourself all over again.

"I thought it was a little strange. It's like Dave Winfield coming from the San Diego Padres in the National League to the New York Yankees in the American League and being told he would have to go back to the minor leagues and prove himself all over again."

But David was confident of his skills and was patient enough to work his way back up the ladder of contention. The first steps of that ladder supported the 241-pounder's climb, but as he continued on his way to the top, the rungs began to snap under his feet. There was no solid base for his desire to be the best. There was no way to the top.

David Sammartino, the man who never asked for special treatment, was not even getting equal treatment with other wrestlers of his caliber. Title shots were barely discussed. "You can be told to be patient for only so long," he said. "Every few months, the excuses would be revised. First, like I said, I had to prove myself. Then they said there were a few wrestlers ahead of me who had been around longer and had to get title shots, but I would get mine soon. Then I was told that there was too much controversy surrounding my father and Roddy Piper and that I would have to wait for that to die down first."

Bruno Sammartino's resurgence must have privately been the ultimate frustration for David. When Bruno returned to the WWF, he had no intention of being anything but a TV commentator. It wouldn't take long for David to know that would change. "He worked out together in the gym and ran together in Pittsburgh and I knew he was in better shape than he was when he was World champion. He could still whip just about anybody around, and believe me, he had offers."

David remembers his second appearance in Madison Square Garden in October 1984 as a turning point in both his career and his father's. In David's Garden debut a month earlier against Moondog Spot, his father came out to ringside to watch the match and report on it for the February 1985 issue of our sister publication Sports Review Wrestling. Not wanting to steal the thunder from his son, Bruno kept a very low profile that night. David was so impressive against Spot that the next month he was given an unexpected chance to wrestle Ken Patera, then the number-three ranked wrestler in the WWF. His career was most certainly taking off. Bruno, feeling that his son had already established himself, gave in to the demands of 20,000 people and came into the ring to give a wave before the match.

"You wrote it in your column, Stu, and it was true," David said. "You could see from the look in his eyes when the crowd chanted his name that he was going to be back in the ring again."

David won't admit that his father's presence in the WWF hurt his career. But he won't deny that the opponents he was given after that night in the Garden didn't approach the level of Ken Patera. And he certainly can't deny that leaving the WWF will give his career a shot in the arm.

If any of you follow ice hockey, you probably have heard about the New York Islanders' Denis Potvin, the all-time leading scorer among defensemen. When Denis was playing his last year as an amateur at age 19, it was obvious that he would be the first player chosen in the drafts of both the National Hockey League and the fledgling World Hockey Association. The Islanders, who had the worst record in the NHL and would be receiving the first pick, did not want to lose Potvin to the WHA. While Potvin was finishing his last amateur season, the Islanders made a trade for his older brother, Jean. Although Jean was a competent defenseman, the real reason the Islanders acquired him was to try to lure his younger brother.

If David was signed by the WWF as a means to lure Bruno out of retirement, he has a right to feel used. David has too much pride to take advantage of the fact that Bruno Sammartino is his father. He deserves the same in return. □

YOU'LL LOOK SENSATIONAL WITH YOUR INSTANT TAN

NO SUN! NO LAMPS! NO DRUGS!

Get the world's safest tan!
Get the world's fastest tan!
Get the most affordable tan!

AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO TAKE A PILL OR WAIT ONE MINUTE!

Talk about good looks! Nothing makes you look better, healthier, more energetic than a rich, golden tan. We all know what some people will go through to achieve it... hours of sitting in the broiling sun or basking on a rooftop or sweltering under an expensive sun lamp... and now... some have even been induced to take pills... that promise to tan you from the inside. But how would you like to be able to put on a rich, satiny-finish golden tan as easily as putting on your clothes? And a more beautiful tan than you can get from the sun or a lamp or any pill! Marvelous INSTANTAN is here now and creating a whole new happy following of boosters.

Lasts as long as a sun tan!
Won't come off till you want it to!

INSTANTAN is not just another cover-up. It's an entirely new KIND of a product... that slips on as smooth as cream... sinks into the skin like a real suntan, without streaks or give-away signs of any kind and leaves you with a tan that's better, safer and more flattering than any sunbather or sunlamp sitter or pill-taker. Swim with it. Shower with it. But show it off as much as possible and watch them all envy that golden satiny, healthy-looking gloss.

Great tan for your entire body!

We want to emphasize... INSTANTAN is GOOD for your skin. Its dermatologically formulated with a collection of your skin's best helpers... plus an ingredient that adds a pigment developed with the aid of men's fashion consultants to achieve the color and glow most flattering to macho men. It contains elements that no other product of its kind has ever been able to boast before. It is indeed science's answer to a long-standing demand for a skin-tanning process that takes no time at all and does away with tedious methods now practiced.

Costs less in time and money!

Sun bathing takes lots of time and costs money in travel, lotions, and hours of basking in strong sunlight. INSTANTAN costs only pennies per application; takes only minutes and actually improves your skin better than lotions and balms and ointments costing up to ten times as much. And here's one MORE but very important PLUS... INSTANTAN is guaranteed... and we mean UNCONDITIONALLY... to be all we say... and to do all we promise... as fast as we say it will. All we want you to do is try it. Spread a little on your skin. See how great it FEELS. Notice how great it looks! That satiny golden sheen. That healthy beachcomber look. That jet-setter vacation affluence you emanate. You'll have the look you've been envying on others. The glow of success. The appearance of well-being. And underneath your tan, your skin will take on a fine, smooth tone that only a well-cared-for complexion has.

High quality skin-care product.
Guaranteed to improve your skin.

Men of fair skin whom nature cheated out of the joy of a rich, healthy tan by making them turn beet-red and suffer pain, stop hiding from threatening ultra-violet rays! Your time has come! Spread on INSTANTAN and look marvelous! Stop worrying about the vulnerability to skin disease. INSTANTAN is good for fair skin especially! See how smooth, flexible and youthful your skin will become. Say goodbye to the lobster look and say hello to that rich, golden, satin-gloss look you've always wished for. Fair skin or olive skin... INSTANTAN is for you. Wait till you see for yourself!

Not just a skin cover but a deep-down penetrating treatment.

We want you to give INSTANTAN the quick-spread test. Just rub it on any part of your body. See how it sinks INTO your skin. How smoothly it spreads. How good it feels. And how its satiny finish looks like the perfect suntan in rich glow, color and texture. How natural! Your friends will compliment you... and envy you.

INSTANTAN is the triumphant result of persistent, patient, extensive scientific research!

Dermatologists, bio-chemists, pharmacists and researchers pooled their collective knowledge to bring forth a product that works like magic. Soothes, smooths, colors, nourishes, protects, improves and stays on. Then off it comes, completely and easily WHEN YOU WANT IT TO. If that isn't something to shout about, we don't know our miracles... and we've brought forth a few. Try it yourself without risk.

A personal note from us to you...

Before INSTANTAN is offered through national retail channels, we have induced the laboratories not only to permit us to bring this wonder product to you by mail order, but to let us set the price as low as possible for a predetermined time. The great success we have had with over a dozen new products in the very recent past has given us special prestige with research laboratories, not to mention an enviable position among consumers. Our guarantee on all our products means a lot.

No more hours of broiling! No more waiting! Tan right away! GLOWING NATURAL BRONZE!

Ever on the alert to bring our many friends new and wonderful products at prices they can well afford, we are justifiably proud to bring you INSTANTAN because we know of nothing else like it. So confident are we that you will not only delight in it but tell your closest friends and family about it that we have specially lowered the offering price in anticipation of extraordinarily large volume through recommendation. Only by trying it can you even begin to appreciate it. Therefore, we urge you to order now and get our quick delivery.

If you're not absolutely thrilled with what INSTANTAN does for you return it for full refund!

What else can we do but impress upon you the fact that we take all the risk? How else can we convince you that we are 100% sincere when we make claims that are so sensational they are hard to believe? But if you try this product and for any reason feel even the slightest bit dissatisfied, we will gladly refund your money. Our good reputation is at stake.

NANCY JONES HEALTH WORLD, INC. Dept. A2T
P.O. BOX 879, Deerfield Beach, FL 33441

Get in on the PROFITS in SMALL ENGINE service and repair Start your own money

BEAT INFLATION!

Cash in on the huge demand for small engine repair.

Work part time, full time right at home - we help you every step of the way.

making business!

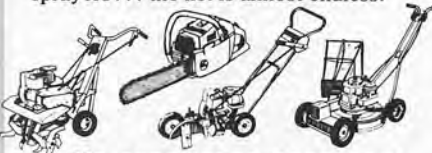

In just a short time, you can be ready to join one of the fastest growing industries in America... an industry where qualified men are making from $25.00 to $30.00 per hour... and that's just for labor. Parts, engines and accessories add even more to the profits.

Because the small engine industry has grown so quickly, an acute shortage of qualified Small Engine Professionals exists throughout the country. In fact, it's not unusual for a good small engine man to be three to four weeks behind in the summer and at least a week behind in the winter. When you see how many small engines are in use today, it's easy to understand why qualified men command such high prices — as much as $49.95 for a simple tune-up that takes less than an hour!

65-million small engines are in service today!

That's right — there are over sixty-five million 2-cycle and 4-cycle small engines in service across the U.S.A. That's the official count from the Engine Service Assn., and new engines are being built at a rate of one-million per month! With fully accredited and approved Foley-Belsaw training, you can soon have the skill and knowledge to make top money servicing these engines. Home-owners and businessmen will seek you out and pay you well to service and repair their lawnmowers, tillers, edgers, power rakes, garden tractors, chain saws, mini-bikes, go-carts, snowmobiles, generators, snowblowers, paint sprayers... the list is almost endless.

No experience necessary.

You don't need to be a 'born mechanic' or have prior experience. If you can read, you can master this profitable trade right at home, in your sparetime, without missing a single paycheck. Lessons are fully illustrated — so clear you can't go wrong.

You receive trade secrets and business plans.

We guide you every step of the way, including tested and proven instructions on how to get business, what to charge, how to get free advertising, where to get supplies wholesale... all the "tricks of the trade"... all the inside facts you need to assure success right from the start.

Increased Income

"I've had about 8 years experience repairing small engines... but repairs were only minor... until I started the Foley-Belsaw Course!"

Walter H. Strick
Campbell, California

With our famous 'learn-by-doing' training method, you get practical 'hands-on' experience with specialized tools and equipment that you'll receive with your training plus a brand-new 4 HP engine — all yours to keep!
